Board wants suit on recall dropped

By HENRY CANTIN

The Huron Township School District's Board of Education initiated action with the Michigan Court of Appeals Monday to uphold a decision of the school district's voters recalling three school board members.

A motion to dismiss a Wayne County Circuit Court suit seeking to halt the results of the recall election held March 29 was filed by the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone of Lansing, attorneys for the Huron School Board.

The three school board members recalled by the electorate by decisive margins are Mrs. Howard (Mildred) Bennett, 28111 Brandes, Flat Rock; Mrs. Erma Palmiter, 51, of 32150 Prescott, Romulus; and Harry Hartsuff, 45 of 21850 Bell Rd., New Boston.

The votes were certified by the school district's Board of Canvassers at 10:51 p.m. election night.

Larry S. Davidow, Detroit attorney representing the trio, filed the Wayne Circuit Court suit prior to the recall election day. He requested in order to show cause why the recall election should not be stopped.

Judge Edward S. Piggins refused to sign the order and permitted the recall election to proceed having in mind the expense the township had incurred in setting up the election.

He told the attorneys that he would hear arguments on the case if the school board members wanted to challenge the legality of the election after it was over.

The suit contended that the school board had failed to give proper notice of the special election as required by state school law. They cited that the law requiring a 35-day notice after the recall petition were validated by township officials on Feb. 5, 1971.

The school board secretary Mrs. Jean Richert stated that the school board followed legal instructions of the Michigan attorney general's office and school board attorneys and further that provisions of the State Constitution supersede the state school law cited as a basis for the suit.

Judge Piggins, on March 31, issued a temporary injunction prohibiting the school board from certifying the election results, interfering with the trio's duties as board members or attempting to fill any claimed vacancies on the board.

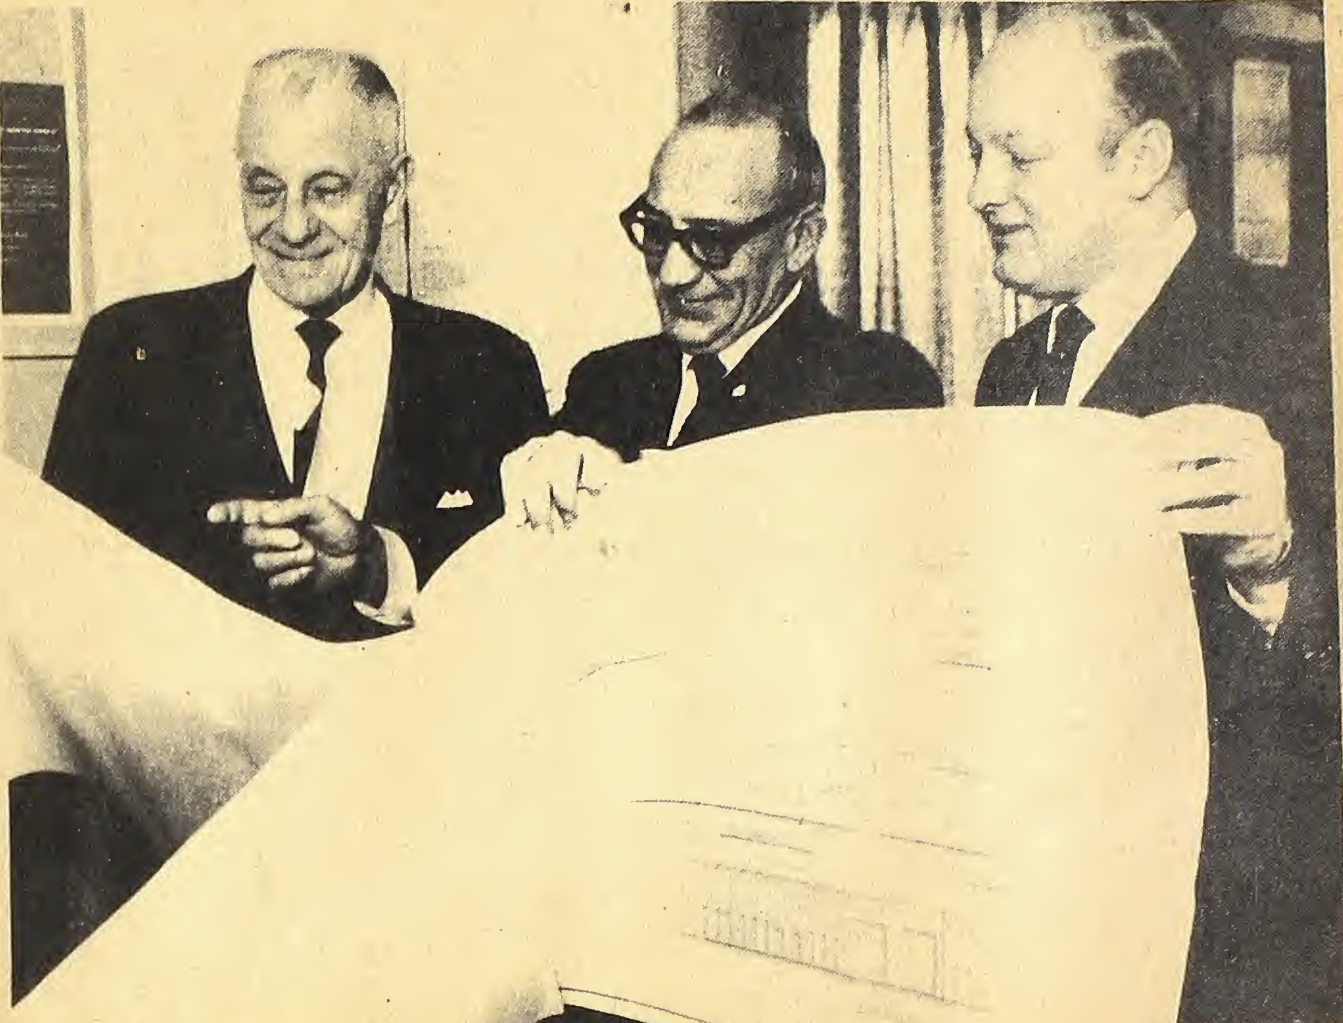

The court's order, by Carl Rush, school board president, it was reported came after the board of canvassers had already certified the election results.

Judge Piggins had set April 23 as a show cause hearing day on the injunction.

School board attorneys reported to the court last Friday that it could not wait until April for a court ruling and filed a motion to dismiss the court suit. A hearing is now scheduled for Thursday.

"When we notified our attorney and told him about the court injunction, he advised us that once certification takes place, the recalled members are no longer on the Board of Education," Rush said.

In a special meeting held March 30, Rush reported to an audience of approximately 75 persons that the vote results

LOOKING OVER PLANS FOR NEW MEDICAL INDUSTRIAL CLINIC. Dr. Clarence J. Carpenter (left) describes his plans for the construction of new Medical Industrial Clinic in Romulus with Romulus' Electrical Inspector Clayton Meldrum and Charles W. Hazen (right) Industrial Coordinator for the City of Romulus. Dr. Carpenter has been ordered evicted by a Wayne County Circuit Court ruling from his present location at Michigan Ave. and Second, Wayne, because of a reported failure to live up to an Urban Renewal Contract in the construction of a two-story medical facility in Wayne. The first stage of the proposed medical clinic for Romulus is to be built 37545 Van Born Rd.

Drug program gets shocking beginning

If shock is a forerunner to action, Romulus should soon have an outstanding drug prevention program.

Last Wednesday, more than 500 interested adults from Romulus and surrounding communities attended a drug abuse seminar, sponsored by the Merriman Elementary School PTA, under the direction of Fouad Berry.

The group crowded Progressive Club Hall spilling over into hallways and aisles.

Dr. John Burton, M.D., Oakland County Medical Examiner, (formerly with Wayne County) presented a group of clinical slides, many in color, showing victims of drug connected murders, suicides and accidental deaths.

It was billed as "Adults Only" and had prewarned that it would be shocking, but the crowd sat momentarily silent and paled following the screening.

Dr. Donald Dawson of the Pontiac State Hospital, lent little consolation to those who would label drug usage as a "fad". "People have the illusion that this drug thing will blow over," said Dawson, "But they are wrong! Things will never be the same again!"

Among the suggestions offered by Burton, Dawson and Robert Moloney, head of Advance Medical and Research Company, was a strong community drug education program with emphasis on youth-parent communications.

Mother-daughter, father-son meetings were urged.

Parents who observe their children using drugs were advised to separate the child from his group.

"Keep him out of the environment of drugs," he said. Much responsibility was placed on parents, "Watch your children," said Burton "account for their time."

"Try to educate them and warn them," Burton admonished parents.

The last speaker of the evening was Romulus Mayor Hyle Carmichael, who pledged the support of the city council to a PTA Council proposed program patterned after MYCON (Mayors Youth Council On Narcotics.) He said later, he expected to make appointments to a council within the week.

CARL K. RUSH
Rush named chairman

Carl K. Rush, prominent Romulus manufacturer, has been elected chairman of the Ways and Means Committee to the Michigan State Central Committee.

Rush's election was announced following a meeting of the members of the state central committee in Pontiac last Friday.

The new chairman of the ways and means committee is also president of the Huron Township Board of Education.

He resides at 29620 King Rd. Romulus.

Carpenter plans move to city

A new medical industrial clinic is being planned for the City of Romulus by Dr. Clarence J. Carpenter.

Site plans for the initial phase of the new Carpenter's Industrial Clinic have been filed with the Romulus Building Department.

The plans are being studied by Romulus' Industrial Coordinator Charles W. Hazen and Electrical Inspector Clayton W. Meldrum, prior to the issuance of a building permit.

Dr. Carpenter has been evicted by Wayne County Circuit Court order from his present industrial clinic, located at Michigan Ave. and Second St., Wayne.

The City of Wayne instituted the court suit to regain Dr. Carpenter's property because of "failure" to live up to an Urban Renewal contract on his land.

Dr. Carpenter purchased an L-shaped parcel of land at the intersection during the summer

Board protests assessments

By HENRY CANTIN

The Board of Review for the City of Romulus has refused to accept, into, Romulus land reassessments submitted by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation.

The board of review voiced strong protests against land reappraisals in certain sections of the city, Harold L. Reiner, city assessor, disclosed Monday.

The reassessed land valuations or appraisals were received by Reiner last week and immediately referred to the board of review, which has the authority under present statutes to make adjustments.

A special session was held last Friday and the board announced that it will check the figures submitted by the county bureau of taxation.

A complete study of the land reappraisals will be made for possible adjustment of "out-of-line" totals and supposedly higher-than-true-market-value, assessments, it was stated.

True cash or market value reflects what the willing seller and the willing buyer agree to, Reiner stated.

The 1971 land reassessed valuations show an increase of approximately $20 million over 1970 totals.

In some instances the land reappraisals were hiked 4 to 5 times previous valuations before applying the state equalization factor.

City officials have already received protests from property owners in some sections of the city.

A request for reassessment of Romulus land was made by the old township administration in 1970. Romulus became a city in May, 1959.

Land assessments made in subdivisions are pretty much in line, Reiner reported.

The majority of land valuation differences are in the area of acreage pieces now existing in the city.

The county bureau of taxation's land reassessment total is $31,175,260 as against $10,913,770 in 1970.

The total includes Metro Airport land for leased building, Reiner stated.

Rhoads proclaims Easter Lily day

A proclamation designating April 10 as Easter Lily day in the Township of Huron has been issued by Township Supervisor Douglas C. Rhoads.

The proclamation was issued on the request of the New Boston Rotary Club.

In his proclamation, Supervisor Rhoads said:

Whereas, Dramatic discoveries as to ways of preventing disability have greater meaning for the future than for the present, and

Whereas, Many children and adults must build lives in which a physical disability is an ever-present reality, and

Whereas, Only continuing individual, direct services meet their needs, now

Therefore, I Douglas Rhoads, Supervisor of Huron Township do hereby designate Easter Lily Day, urging all citizens to support the annual Easter Seal appeal to help each physically handicapped child and adult take his rightful place as an integral part of his community."

34th District Court welcomes judge back

The Thirty-fourth District Court welcomed back Judge James B. Stone as he took his place on the bench for the first time recently since undergoing surgery nearly three weeks ago.

After a brief stay in the hospital following surgery on March 12, Judge Stone has been convalescing at his home on Louisa Dr. in Van Buren Township.

During his absence from the court, his judicial duties were carried on through the generous cooperation of neighboring courts.

The people of the Thirty-fourth Judicial District were fortunate to have the services of such capable replacements as Judges Richard D. Dunn and George E. Wicklund of Dearborn Heights; Thomas G. Smith of Westland; James E. Mies of Livonia; Richard L.

First permits awarded for Metroplex Center

Building permits for the construction of the first two projects in the Metroplex Industrial & Commercial Center have been issued by the Romulus Building Department.

Metroplex is an 80-acre site on the northeast corner of Middlebelt and Ecorse Rds., Romulus.

The two one-story structures approved are in the light manufacturing category and are to be erected on east side of Metroplex Dr.

The first building permit is for the Mo Pel Inc., of Ypsilanti. Construction cost of this facility is estimated at $2,000. The second permit is for an adjacent structure with an estimated construction cost of $48,000.

The permits were issued to owner Samuel A. Moses, 6429 Steadman, Dearborn.

ATTENDANCE AT COMMUNITY-WIDE DRUG EDUCATION PROGRAM - The initial session of a community-wide drug education program of Merriman Elementary School's PTA drew a capacity crowd. It was held at the Romulus Progressive Hall. School and city officials were in attendance. The program, which has the full support of the City of Romulus, featured a presentation for adults only at the first session. A slide presentation on drug addiction and talks by physicians highlighted the session.

Services held for Mrs. Troutt

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Troutt, wife of Terry L. Troutt, former state senator and Romulus supervisor, were held at 1 p.m. last Friday at the Baum Funeral Home, Romulus.

Mrs. Troutt, a member of the Romulus community for 25 years, died March 31 in the Annapolis General Hospital after a short illness.

Rev. Lonnie England, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Romulus officiated at the services. Burial was in the Michigan Memorial Park Cemetery, Flat Rock.

Mrs. Troutt was born in Detroit on July 12, 1919. She resided at 16325 Farnum, Romulus.

Her husband, Terry, who survives, was a former Romulus Township supervisor and served as a senator for the 13th senatorial district for one term.

Mrs. Troutt is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Donald (Linda) Bitnar of Belleville, Mrs. Helmut (Connie) Preis of Belleville, her father, Nick Samra of Brighton, Mich., a sister, Mrs. Eugene (Eva) Swatek of Taylor, Mich., and a brother Charles Samra of New Boston.

Attending the funeral services were more than 190 residents including city, county and state officials.

More than a 100 floral pieces were received at the funeral home.

The Down River Association for Retarded Children will hold their regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m., Monday, April 12, at the Garfield School, on Fourth at Superior, in Wyandotte.

The guest speaker for the evening will be William Cahalan, the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney.

The Election Committee will announce their recommended nominations for Officers and Board Members for the coming term to be voted on at the May meeting election.

Recreation head returns

Corzetti C. Jones, 25, teacher and counselor at Romulus Senior High School, has resumed directorship of recreation programs for the Romulus Recreation Commission.

Romulus City Council has unanimously approved extending the employment of Jones until the end of the present fiscal year ending June 30 at a monthly rate of $75 per month.

He was appointed in December, 1970 for a three-month period, and had been serving the commission since. The pay rate is retroactive to March 12 when his initial employment ended.

Jones' reappointment prompted considerable amount of discussion by members of city council due to an opened talent show presented by the sophomore class at the school on March 7.

Jones is counselor for the class.

The performance of an outside act in the talent show brought objections by parents and other viewers because of the reported obscene conduct of the performers.

The act was thoroughly investigated by School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy who reported that such acts will no longer be tolerated and future shows by students will be better supervised.

Jones was not responsible for the sudden and unexpected conduct of the performers.

Jones is presently preparing a schedule of summer recreational activity for the city. It is to be presented to the recreation commission for final approval and recommendations.

Meeting called to form PTSA

A organizational meeting for a PTSA (Parent-Teacher-Student Association) will be held tonight (Wednesday) at the Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Rd.

Mrs. Gerald Kubiak, PTA member, announced Monday. The meeting will be held in the school cafeteria.

Citing a pressing need for improved communication and involvement between youth, schools and the adult community, Mrs. Kubiak invited all interested parents, teachers, students, community leaders and officials to attend.

"Without the help of the whole community, you can't do very much to help these kids," she said. "Some of the things we need to do will require cooperation and facilities," she added.

A speaker has been scheduled from the Michigan Congress of PTA's to explain how a high school PTSA might be organized and what it could hope to accomplish.

Public hearing to consider designating poverty agency

A public hearing will be held by a committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners as a prelude to designating a community action agency to direct the anti-poverty program in Wayne County outside Detroit.

The hearing will be conducted by the Commissioners' Committee on Economic Opportunity at 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 21 in the City-County Building auditorium.

Two groups are competing for the designation. At stake is direction of economic opportunity programs which, based on past funding, may involve more than a million dollars in federal and local funds.

The competing groups both have incorporated as non-profit corporations, the structure demanded by the Chicago regional office of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) which controls the funding.

One of the groups includes the seven mayors and the one township supervisor of eight federally-designated economic opportunity "target areas." The localities are Ecorse, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, River Rouge, Romulus, Taylor and Sumpter Township. The group is called Communities United for Action.

The other group has incorporated as the Wayne County Poor People's Corporation. Its spokesmen, Henrietta Lesinski and Arlene Arrington, both of Taylor, said the incorporators are low-income residents of the target areas.

A compromise proposal is also expected to be aired at the public hearing. County Commissioner George F. Killeen, of Detroit, (D-District 2), has proposed that the competing groups be combined to operate the program. Killeen is vice chairman of the Commissioner's Committee on Economic Opportunity.

Its other members are: Roscoe L. Bobo, of Ecorse, (D-District 18), chairman; Charmie Currie, Detroit, (D-District 6); Edward Jones, Detroit, (D-District 16); John Lesinski, Dearborn, (D-District 20); Catherine Shavers, Detroit, (D-District 15); and Ervin A. Steiner Jr., Grosse Pointe Farms, (R-District 3).

The board of commissioners approved "in principle" the non-profit corporation concept at its April 1 meeting.

Under the plan, the board will designate a non-profit corporation which, as stated by a committee report, "would be solely responsible for funds received and programs approved."

The corporation would be eligible for 75 per cent federal funding, with the 25 percent local share consisting of cash or staff services.

The board of commissioners, which would have several of its members on the corporation board, would have the right to withdraw its designation at any time the board of commissioners felt the program was not operating effectively.

Federal funding, amounting to $776,000 last year, for economic opportunity programs in the eight target areas was not renewed after it expired last Nov. 30 because the Chicago OEO considered the program "generally ineffective" as then headed by a citizens committee.

The board of commissioners spent $40,000 to keep the program functioning through December while efforts were made to reverse the federal decision. Finally, eight neighborhood action centers were closed and some 90 employees were laid off.

Huron budget jumps; officials get raises

An operating budget of $238,000 and seven per cent salary increases for township officials were approved at the annual meeting of Huron Township's electorate.

The budget approved by the voters in attendance at the meeting is an increase of approximately $21,000 over the 1970-71 budget.

The seven percent pay boost effective this Saturday hikes the township supervisor's pay to $12,165, the township clerk's to $9,108 and the township treasurer's to $6,018. The township trustees will split $9,630.

In addition to salary raises, an allocation of $6,500 to hire an industrial development coordinator for the township was approved.

The expense account of the supervisor will remain at $1,500. The expense accounts of the clerk and treasurer was doubled to $1,000 and $600 respectively.

Hearing set on zoning ordinance

Romulus City Council will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m., April 20, on the city's new proposed Zoning Ordinance.

The public hearing will be conducted in the Romulus Senior High School Auditorium.

The zoning map and text has been approved by the various groups and final approval by the city council awaits the results of the public hearing.

The hearing follows numerous meetings at the Citizens Advisory Committee on Zoning, City Planning Commission and members of City Council.

The Easter Seal Society provided direct care and treatment to some quarter of a million cripple children and adults nationwide in 1970.

Old story is always fresh

Editor's note: The following is the final installment of a series of Lenten Sermons by area pastors and leading churchmen. This week's article was submitted by Rev. Don Crocker, pastor of the Zion Missionary Church of Belleville.

It may sound like the same old story again...and it is. The story of Christ's Resurrection is the old, old story that is ever new and fresh, because it throbs with the beat of Deity.

All of heaven funneled itself into a sealed tomb in a Judean hill, and the world was shaken. "And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door and sat upon it." A jealous Father had invaded the precincts of death to raise His only Son from among the dead. And so He is alive; Jesus Christ is risen!

Then it is more than a story; it is one of the best established facts of history.

The noted scholar, John A. Broadus, once said, "If we do not know that Jesus rose from the dead, we do not know anything historical whatever." Alfred Edersheim of Oxford University posed the statement that "The Resurrection of Christ may unhesitatingly be pronounced the best established fact in history." Another has said, "The Resurrection of Christ from the dead is the one most important item in the whole fund of human knowledge."

The Apostle Paul wrote, "Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures and he was buried, and he rose again the third day... he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve: after that he was seen of about five hundred brethren at once...After that he was seen of James; Then of all the apostles. And last of all he was seen of me also."

The resurrection is the keyway for the launching of the Christian Church. It is the marrow of the boyd of Christian believers.

The total structure of the Christian faith is based upon the Resurrection of Christ. No morning ever dawned like this one when the foundation of the Christian's faith was firmly fixed forever.

The Christian Church is composed, at its core, of men and women who have encountered Jesus Christ as a real and living presence.

It is out of this experience, as well as in reliance in the New Testament record, that Christians join on Easter in proclaiming the good news "He is Risen!"

Renewal head tells of plan

EDITOR'S NOTE: The City of Romulus is soon to embark on its initial phase of the community's Urban Renewal Program. The first phase involves 175 acres of land in the Wayne-Beverly Rds. area. The first of two informative articles on the total Urban Renewal Program for Romulus that involves approximately 575 acres has been submitted by Urban Renewal Director George Wilhelm.

This article is an attempt to correlate all of the many facets of the Romulus Urban Renewal Program, and to place it in proper perspective in relationship to the future development of Romulus.

As I mentioned in the past, the Urban Renewal Program of the community. It is one means by which a community can receive assistance, thru Federal Grants, to achieve a portion of its over-all goal.

It is certainly not a perfect program. But, at the present time, until further Federal revenue Sharing Programs come along it is the only way a community can have some of its Federal Tax Money returned to it. Urban Renewal Monies can be used for the purpose of cleaning up the physical blight within the community.

The major blighting influences in the first 175 acres, which make up the first project, are; the absence of paved streets; sidewalks; adequate storm drainage; adequate recreation facilities; sub-standard housing, most of which is incapable of being brought up to adequate health and safety standards and substandard lots. These same conditions exist in other parts of the City of Romulus, and if the Community Renewal Program is carried out, will someday be proposed for the same type of renewal activity proposed for the Wayne-Beverly Area.

Let us first look at some of the benefits the City, as a whole, will derive from the renewal of this area. All of the existing 20, 35 and 40 foot lots be built on. This is a real possibility.

Both the City of Wayne and the City of Westland have been recently forced, by the courts, to issue permits for the building of minimum type housing on 40 foot lots, existing in their communities. Another benefit will be the development of a Master Storm Drain which should provide adequate storm drainage to the whole Wayne-Beverly Area. We are fortunate in one respect that the Boice Drain, which is the main drain for the area, actually flows to the Rouge River and does not enter the Down River Drainage System.

The streets will be paved, and sidewalks will be provided. This will assure that a maximum maintenance area, which it is now, will become a minimum maintenance area.

Adequate recreational facilities will be provided as part of the total project. This will relieve the City from having to depend on the goodwill of some developer to provide recreational space.

It is important to remember that all of these improvements will someday have to be provided in this and other areas of the City, whether or not it is done with Urban Renewal Money or not. If the improvements to the area are made now, through the use of the Federal Grant, at a minimum cost to the City, it will release approximately $3 million of future City Tax money to be used in other parts of the City.

In fact, with the increased tax base which will be provided by this program, this section of the community will help to pay for the improvements in the remainder of the City.

One of the greatest benefits to the City will be the increase of tax base. At the present time the 175 acres, of the first project, is assessed at approximately $500,000.

We anticipate approximately $10 million of private development will take place. This will increase the tax base 10 fold, while at the same time decreasing the need for services to a minimum.

The one negative aspect of the program, as it now stands, is the possibility of the City have to raise approximately $750,000 to cover a portion of this quarter share of the program. This possibility arose because of the defeat of the School Bond Issue for the construction of the new Junior High and expansion of the Beverly Elementary School.

The Federal Government has assured us, in writing, that should these improvements be started before the project is completed we would be able to claim them as Local Non-Cash Grants-In-Aid thus cancelling out any need for a cash contribution. Additional credits can also be approved during the life of the project. We are attempting to recover some lost credits on the sewer in the Area and we hope to be able to claim a portion of the City Hall Complex.

PCHA committee asks for state investigation

The Executive Committee of the People's Community Hospital Authority sent a communication Monday to state Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley requesting investigation of the Board of Directors and the administration "at the earliest possible date."

The request grows out of a resolution adopted by the Ecorse City Council urging the attorney general to check out allegations put forth by Councilman Tracy E. Salisbury, who is also a member of the PCHA Board of Directors.

Salisbury says he has proof, gathered over a period of more than a year, of conflicts of interest among board members and PCHA employees and other irregularities in the administration of the four PCHA hospitals, including Annapolis in Wayne.

The Ecorse resolution charges, "pecuniary interest involvement," "featherbedding and arrangements which 'tend to cause and do cause the cost of health care to rise and ultimately and consequently cause the insurance rates to go up because of their (members) inflationary tactics.'"

A major charge, included in the resolution, is that 90 per cent of the operating expenses of the hospital are not approved by board resolution by the Board of Directors, "leaving only incidental expenses for Central Office to be okayed" by the board, which is all contrary to the best interest of the patient and the taxpayer."

The Executive Committee of PCHA seems eager to get an investigation under way. In the letter to the attorney general, Board Chairman Donald J. Pizzimenti said, "We believe it would be in the best interest of all concerned that an early review be made in order to assure the officials of the City of Ecorse, and all other elected officials, as well as the citizens of the 23 member communities, as to the continuing integrity of the Authority operations."

Concerning Salisbury's comments about financial irresponsibility, Pizzimenti stated, "Actually, many of the regulations under which PCHA operates were worked out in past years in conjunction with the State Attorney General's office."

He added, "Our independent auditing firm advises us that our controls on expenditure accounting, purchasing practices and general auditing procedures are much more restrictive than those in most comparable concerns."

Pizzimenti claims that Salisbury is dealing "completely in generalities and fails to detail a single specific irregularity." He said this raised a serious question as to the Ecorse councilman's motives.

Pizzimenti went on to say, "As a member of the PCHA Executive Committee as well as the Finance Committee during the past year, Mr. Salisbury has played a very major role in all actions and decisions of the Authority. So in reality his charge of 'questionable practices' might reasonably be construed as an indictment of his own stewardship."

When Salisbury brought up his charges at the last board meeting, the board passed a resolution directing him to submit evidence which he says he has in his possession.

Salisbury indicated he was eager to do so if the board would also resolve to protect him in litigation after he has substantiated his charges. The rest of the board members refused to do this.

Pizzimenti sent a letter to Salisbury last week informing him that the Finance Committee would meet at his convenience to review whatever material he had to present.

Salisbury's main conflict-of-interest charges stem from a private billing corporation which was created by an employee of Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park. This billing procedure reportedly has been discontinued.

According to Ray G. Clift, public relations director of PCHA, the corporation was run entirely on private time and separate from hospital facilities.

At three of the PCHA hospitals, physicians do their own billing for emergency care. The fourth, Annapolis, handles all billing services. There has been a great deal of controversy over which system is better. Outer Drive is now in the process of assuming the billing also.

Salisbury apparently feels that a billing service run by an employee, utilizing his hospital contacts, should be considered a breach of interest.

Clift says that both, PCHA attorneys and auditors, have assured administrators that conflict of interest is not necessarily the case.

Permit issued

The Industrial Lease-Back Corp., 30030 Beverly Rd. has been issued a building permit to construct a one-story building on the north side of Beverly Rd. between Middlebelt and Merriman Rds. The permit fee collected by the city amounted to $314.

had been certified at 10:51 Monday night, March 29.

He added that the board had no intention of filling the vacancies and "wouldn't have denied anyone's seat on the board (at the special meeting) if they wished it."

The trio, on advice from their attorney, did not attend the meeting.

Among additional charges on which the court injunction was sought are:

- Registered and qualified voters who wanted to vote against the recall were denied the right to do so upon various pretexts.

- The defendants used teachers for political purposes to advise students and parents of so-called inadequacies in the plaintiff's performance as school board members.

Unqualified persons entered areas confined to election officials, made copies of certain records and interfered with proper election procedure.

Notice of a special meeting intended to interfere with the court's announced intention to issue an injunction was served upon the plaintiffs before the election was concluded.

The plaintiffs will suffer immediate irreparable injury.

In our opinion

Westland residents, Rotary step forward

Three cheers for the interested community of Westland and three more cheers for the Westland Rotary Club.

When the call went out last week that

Tranquility is Easter tradition

Easter is almost upon us again.

In Christian world, Easter Sunday commemorates the Resurrection of Christ. Easter customs, as we practice them in the U.S. today, are a singular tribute to the spirit of Easter, and to the quiet freshness of a Spring morning when one can almost feel, for a few hours, the pervading sense of tranquility and consideration of our fellowman that 2,000 years ago released humanity from the bondage of sheer barbarism.

Many capture the spirit of Easter by going to church. The simple Easter egg hunt and the tradition of the Easter bonnet lend joy and color to the occasion.

All the ways in which Easter is observed hold a certain humility - as they should.

Easter is a day of civilizing influence. It is merely one day out of 365, but is a day that expresses the way we should live throughout the year - in humble respect for the unseen power that guides our lives.

Laymon McLilley, a 17-year-old wrestler for John Glenn High School, needed financial support to pay his expenses to compete in the national junior wrestling championships in Bakersfield, Calif., this weekend, the response was overwhelming.

As was reported in yesterday's Sports Meridian column, enough money was contributed by McLilley's "interested community" to allow the Glenn senior to wing his way to California for the tournament.

As if that wasn't enough, the Westland Rotary Club has followed up with an announcement that it will take care of McLilley's financial needs and return all of the money previously donated.

"It just goes to show that people are interested in helping others," Glenn Athletic Director Don Domke commented. Domke said people were calling up him and wrestling Coach Bob Luskand saying they would gladly help out with $50 or 60.

Should McLilley win in the Bakersfield competition, he will be eligible to compete in the world junior championships in Tokyo. The National Amateur Wrestling Federation would pick up that tab, however.

It's gratifying in these days of "everyone for himself" attitudes on the part of many people that the residents of Westland and friends of John Glenn athletics would raise approximately $400 for so worthy a youngster.

And we commend each and every one of you who gave so generously.

Abortion bill to get hotter

Liberalized abortion legislation will be fought out on the floor of the House as one of the hottest emotional issues in Michigan history.

Leading opponents of abortion concede the Senate-passed bill is too sizzling an issue to be strangled in committee.

House Speaker William A. Ryan (D-Detroit) argues that it shouldn't be before the legislature until some basic decisions are made by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The role of the woman seeking an abortion could conflict with the First Amendment right of privacy and the unborn child could be covered by the 14th the right to due process.

Neither legal question has been plumbed to the point where a legislative body can act with precision and clarity, Ryan said. "The right of an unborn child to protection of its life could be a 14th amendment right," he added. "I think only recently has this relationship to this right been discussed."

"I think the unborn child should be accorded some personal civil rights. But regardless of my personal viewpoint, I have to recognize that it is the function, duty and responsibility of the U.S. Supreme Court to interpret the bill of right.

"Only the U.S. Supreme Court can with any finality and authority assert whether or not an unborn child is in fact a person as specified in the 14th amendment."

"Only the court can determine whether an unborn child is thus entitled to protection against the taking of his life without due process."

Ryan said he will try to figure a way to get a U.S. Supreme Court decision on the issue, using the argument of jurisdiction against it on the floor of the House.

The power structure of the House opposes abortion, from the signs which appeared when the bill passed 20 to 17 by the Senate was sent to the committee on social services and corrections.

At the start, the committee vote was computed as 6 to 3 against. Later other backers of abortion said opposition was diminishing, and now even Ryan concedes it must come to the floor.

He said he still considers the pro-con position of the House to be 50-50, if every member votes his own conscience. Ryan said he plans no caucus of the Democratic majority on the subject.

But Ryan's clout in the House as speaker does not always require caucuses. His footwork in sending the abortion bill to the House committee was a hallmark.

Over the weeks to come, Ryan's position on abortion--opposed to the Senate bill in its present form--will become well known to lawmakers with their own bills to pass this year.

Rep. David S. Holmes Jr. (D-Detroit), chairman of the social services and corrections committee, has embarked on a 10-city road trip to hold public hearings.

The bill will hit the House floor in the first week of June under the tentative schedule, the debate will be long and fiery with a vote coming later in the month.

Our readers write

People rule country if they don't object

To the editor:

It behooves me to acquaint the citizens of Westland who are involved in the street paving program with the action and no-actions of the Westland Board of Review.

The Westland City Council has led you to believe that, when the street paving assessments are spread, the city is going to be generous enough to pick up the tab. Let's stop and think about it a moment.

If the city has all this money to pay your assessment as part of a so-called "charity program," why don't they save a lot of book work and simply contribute it all toward the original financing. Good Question.

The answer is a simple fact. The city doesn't have that kind of money. It's another fact that the Board of Review cannot allow reduction of payment or abatement of payment on any special assessment. It's another fact that the Board of Review--three members appointed by the mayor and advised by the city assessor--determines who is to receive a property assessment break and who is not to receive one.

The City Council will not be there when you tell the Board of Review that you were promised a tax break. It's another fact that when the Board of Review reduces someone's property tax assessment, the city treasury has to make-up the difference and who do you suppose pays the funds that go into the city treasury?

In a brief summary, I would like to explain Section 14.6 of the City Charter, "Objection to Improvement". This particular section appears to be the cause of this council's display of power. In effect, the section is saying that if more than 50 per cent of the property owners object to the improvement, said improvement can still be made as long as there is a five-sevenths vote of the City Council.

I was under the impression that this country was governed by the people, but evidently it's governed by the people unless they object to a proposal.

I am agast to think that the Westland City Council, selected by the voters of this community to represent them, has chosen to turn a deaf ear to the cries of its own makers.

'Relax, dear... You're imagining things!'

Speaking of schools

Why promote athletics?

By DAVID G. SCHLUTZ
Junior High Principal and Athletic Director
Huron Township School District

Many times we are asked why we have competitive interscholastic athletics in our school programs. We could begin to explain this by showing the historical value of athletics since the dawn of civilization.

On the other hand we could trace a picture of the rich American heritage as a nation that not only encourages, but is proud of its athletic prowess. As has been stated many times in the past and is still true today, the field of competition in athletics is a place where boys become men, lessons are learned, and keen rivalry and good sportsmanship are to be desired.

We could list many a man from Eisenhower to Kennedy, from Rockne to Lombardi, and from Teddy Roosevelt to Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, who all used their lessons learned in athletics to help them become great Americans.

We feel that participation in athletics is a privilege, the selection of joining a team and committing ones-self to a team, brings with it the responsibility to uphold those principles of athletics and to learn to accept direction by the coach and officials which will lead to the ultimate success in competition in life. For those boys who cannot follow direction in athletics and will do as they please, will find it very hard to succeed on the job in later life.

One of the most common criticisms of today's youth is that they lack perseverance. In athletics one of the many lessons learned is that patience and perseverance will eventually pay off in the long run. The boy who continues year after year in a sport will eventually realize the successes that he had dreamed for.

How many of us have seen a boy with not a lot of talent or even size do a fine job in football, his senior year and along with others we ask "Where did he come from, he is really good", only to have the coach say, "Oh he has been around for years and his perseverance has finally paid off", he has learned to do his job!"

Athletics are not really an "extra-curricular" activity, but are really an extension of the school day. It's time begins with the conclusion of the academic day. Athletics does not just benefit the boys involved either. How many school districts can trace it's successes to their excellent athletic teams.

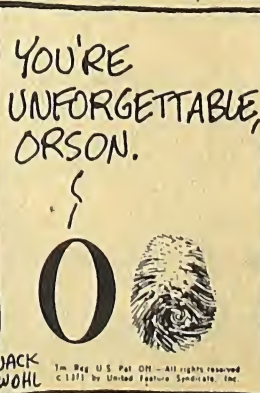

With civic pride, a sense of loyalty, parental involvement, and student interest many times generated by their athletic teams, school districts have built and maintained fine programs in their community because they are willing to give of themselves and to make sacrifices when necessary because of once again, fine athletic programs.

Just as our early American forefathers drew close together as a community, where everyone became involved and participated for the common good; so today, using the athletic teams as a rallying point, communities join together for the common good.

With the development of: physical fitness, physical skills, mental alertness, sportsmanship, a sense of responsibility, team-work, emotional maturity and a feeling of making a contribution to something, our boys and girls learn the lessons that are needed if they are to become self-supporting, conscientious members of their community upon graduation.

Assails Mahalak vote on 18-year-old

To the editor:

It's quite obvious to me that Representative Mahalak doesn't give a hoot what his constituents desire in the way of legislation.

We have, the voters in the state, have twice in four years turned down the 18 year old voter.

Now these men who we put in office thumb their collective noses at our wishes.

At least Sen. Faust didn't overlook the voters wishes entirely. The state senate had better do a little soul searching before they vote on this matter.

Edgemont Drama Club does 'Tom Sawyer'

On March 26th and 27th, The Edgemont Drama Club presented the play "Tom Sawyer" at Edgemont Elementary School.

Two casts of characters presented the popular play the last two weekends (March 26-27 and April 1 and 2).

This is the sixth year of activity for the Edgemont Drama Club. Past productions include "The Land of the Dragon," "Prince Fairyfoot," and "The Hobbit".

Each year there are months of drama activity and exercises before the play is announced. Then comes the difficult task of selecting the students who will appear on stage. Many students try-out.

For example, there were 23 girls who tried out for the part of Aunt Polly. There were about 20 boys who tried out for the parts of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

"Tom Sawyer" was directed by James Lightfoot with the assistance of Mrs. Guy Young, Gary Griffith, Andrea Price, and Kay Vealey.

Students who appeared in the separately casted productions were Keith Young and Steve Colwell, as Tom Sawyer; Darel Adams and Jim Chapman as Huck Finn; Agnes Papuzynski and Terri Stead as Aunt Polly; Kim

Carr and Lisa Pellicchia as Becky Thatcher; Judy Bly and Vanessa Zannis as the schoolteacher; Scott Dawson and Kevin McKelvey as Sid Sawyer; John Mills and Greg Davis as Muff Potter; Howard

Renton and Richard Bassett as Alfred Temple; Jeff Greaves and Ron Gott and Dr. Robinson; and Brad Verrot and Eric Davis as Ben Rogers. John Price and Jeff Kelly were Joe Harper; Eileen

Biggs and Susan Krebs were Amy Lawrence; Tom Dawson and Robert Dillon played Jim Hollis; Debbie Herkimer and Janet McMillan were Susan Harper; Sara Robinson and Linda Harris were Janie Hardin; Pam Fitch and Lorri Gibson were Gracie Miller; John Wyman and Tom Lemons played the sheriff and Gary Ostrowski and Robert Stewart were the preacher.

FLOWERS FOR THE LEADING LADY — Edgemont Elementary School's presentation of "Tom Sawyer" drew capacity crowds at its two performances. Keith Young (Tom Sawyer) presents flowers to leading lady "Miss Becky Thatcher" played by Kim Carr.

Attendance below par at Arts Club play

The final performance of the Romulus Theatre Arts Club's presentation of Jesse Stuart's three act play, "The Thread That Runs So True" was held last Saturday.

The play, with a cast of 28, did not draw a full house on any of the three nights it was presented Friday night saw a peak attendance 120 persons.

The cast and their director David Ferdon were encouraged however, hopeful that increasing interest in their efforts will continue.

The play dealt with the problems of a rural schoolmaster trying to compete with crops and early marriage to bring enlightenment to the youth of the district.

The director feels that with more community support it will be possible for the group to buy the rights to more inspiring scripts. The talent, energy and ability seems to be here already.

Building authority vote angers commissioner

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners, after weeks of delay and inconclusive voting, elected Raymond H. Weber to a six year term on the Wayne County Building Authority.

The results of the final vote provoked an angry response from Commissioner William L. Dunbar (D-10th District), who was angered at the defeat of Porter C. Dillard, a black candidate opposing Weber for the job.

Dunbar chastised the board for what he felt was a breach of promise. He said that commissioners had agreed to make strong efforts toward placing blacks in vacancies on county boards and commissions that had been predominately white. The three-member Building Authority is all white.

Dunbar said that the chairman and all commissioners had resolved two years ago to make every effort to integrate county positions.

Commissioner Michael J. Reilly (D-12th District) defended his and the board's actions saying that Dunbar's indictment "was not in the best interest of solidifying the board of commissioners."

Mishap puzzles police

Wayne County Sheriff's deputies are puzzled over the mysterious auto-pedestrian mishap last night on east-bound I-94 west of Merriman in Romulus which killed a 21-year-old New Port man and left police seeking still another possible victim.

Joseph Donald Edmonds was pronounced dead on arrival at 8:40 p.m. at Wayne County General Hospital.

Edmonds was reportedly standing in the middle of the expressway when the auto struck him. However, no trace of the other pedestrian has been found.

Driver of the auto, Barry M. Schwartz, 23, and passengers his sister, Debra Schwartz, 19, and Myra Liss, 22, all of Huntington, told deputies two pedestrians were struck.

Deputies and volunteers searched the area for three hours last night without success.

Edmonds was thrown over the hood and into the windshield of the sports car by the high speed impact.

Deputies theorized the second victim may have been thrown several hundred feet in any direction. However, the intensive search proved futile.

"Another person was seen, but there is no evidence that the car struck another person," Det. Richard Williamson said.

Spring fair is planned

Romulus Elementary School PTA is planning the first spring fair in the district.

Stated for Saturday, April 24, between 2 and 5:30 p.m., the school, located at 11165 Olive St. will be open with games, booths and movies.

Among the attractions will be a student Art Club Booth, Needlecraft and Woodcraft Shop, General Store and White Elephant Booth, Refreshment Stand, Bakery and Candy Shoppe.

Mrs. Marjory Butler, PTA president, announced that she will be accepting contributions of canned goods from now until Fair Day. Each donation will admit one to the movies.

Romulus board meets

The next regular meeting of the Romulus Community Schools' Board of Education will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 13. The meeting will be conducted at the board offices, 36540 Grant Rd., Romulus.

Accidents down for quarter

Michigan has recorded 392 deaths in traffic accidents and eight fatalities in water mishaps in the first quarter this year, according to State Police provisional figures.

Dealership break-in investigated

A reported break-in at the Heininger Chevrolet Sales, 489 Huron River Dr., Belleville, is under investigation by city police.

The firm was entered through a rear window of a back door, Police Chief Irwin W. Stech reported.

Two new cars and approximately 50 sets of car keys were stolen. The two cars were later found abandoned by Patrolman Richard Wall and Wayne County Sheriff deputies at Savage Rd. and Louisa Dr.

The cars were out of gas and one of the cars was damaged on both sides, Chief Stech reported.

Commissioners vote to seek millage to finance new jail

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners has taken the first step toward asking the voters to approve millage to finance a new jail.

Meeting as the Ways and Means Committee, the commissioners voted unanimously March 25 to put the wheels in motion.

They approved a resolution requesting county lawyers to draft a ballot proposition for submission to the voters at the next special or general county-wide election.

The next general election is scheduled for the fall of 1972. However, the State Legislature is considering a bill which would set an election for judges in Wayne County for next fall or the spring of 1972.

The resolution, introduced by Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick, did not specify the amount of millage that might be sought. This would be determined by the board after it is decided what type and size of facility is needed. It is estimated that a maximum security jail for 1,000 prisoners could cost about $20 million.

The resolution states that "the need for additional county tax millage for county capital improvement programs has been determined" and that "the first priority under the improvement program (should) be, and it hereby is, to build a new county jail."

Members of the board stressed that they consider use of DeHoCo as a temporary measure aimed at removing enough prisoners from the jail so that renovation of the building can begin.

Eighteen months ago, the Board of Commissioners appropriated $1.5 million for major renovations at the jail, but the work has been stalled because of the jail overcrowding.

In other actions, the commissioners approved a proposal by Commissioner Frederick Yates, of Detroit, urging that two per cent of federal income tax receipts go to the states instead of the federal government.

Wayne County will seek to muster national support behind the proposal which would require an act of Congress in order to be effected.

Under the plan, two per cent of the federal income tax paid by individuals and corporations would go to states whose legislators voted to implement the plan.

The net effect of the plan would be to shift two per cent of the federal income tax paid in a state to the state and local governments, without increasing the amount paid by the taxpayers.

Half the two per cent would go to the state, 25 per cent would go to the counties on a per capita basis.

Wayne County officials will seek endorsement of the plan by the influential National Association of Counties at the association's annual legislative conference to Washington next week.

Woman seeking clemency for Lt. William Calley

Upset over the recent trial verdict declaring Lt. William L. Calley Jr. guilty of premeditated murder, the 23-year old wife of a Vietnam war veteran yesterday began circulating a petition on Calley's behalf to send to President Richard Nixon. Mrs. Carolyn Payton, of 500 Liberty St., Belleville, said she never felt personally involved with the case until Calley was convicted.

"If he had orders to shoot, he had to carry them out," Mrs. Payton commented.

"I think the Army has a ruling now that if a soldier is given an order he doesn't think it is right, he doesn't have to do it. But the Calley incident occurred before that ruling," she said.

"I don't think it's right that he should be punished. They should get some of the top brass; they're just as much to blame."

Employed at the Ford Motor Co. Rawsonville plant, Mrs. Payton is seeking permission to circulate her petition through the plant.

She is also looking for interested area residents to aid in the circulation of the petition which asks for clemency. She would like to obtain a representative sampling of signatures from persons throughout western Wayne County.

Mrs. Payton declined to comment on the Vietnam war, saying only "my husband has been there."

She did add "There's a lot more going on over there than the public knows about."

Watch for water on road

"Watch for water on highway pavements," the Department of State Highways warned motorists.

When ground is still frozen in early spring, melting roadside snows often run the wrong way onto highway pavements. Freezing night temperatures then turn the pavement water into ice.

Water itself, is a highway hazard, Department engineers warn. At 60 miles an hour or more, water can cause a car to hydroplane, raising the front wheels off the pavement with resulting loss of control.

Until Old Man Winter has been definitely ousted from the 1971 scene, the Department recommends that all wet spots on highway pavements be approached with extra caution.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

This question appeared here last week. Psychologists ask the question in behalf of clients when examining employee applications...

"Of all the men you know, have known, met or heard of, what one man would you most like to be like?" Explain why... What person, at least of Christian faith, could possibly fail to select the One Man who not only changed the course of history, but changed the calendar as well? Apart from the religious aspect, this Man was so remarkable, our calendar is dated B.C. and A.D., before His divinity, knew He DID live on earth. From His birth to His crucifixion, He lived an exemplary life of selflessness; never a thought of selfishness. His life, His acts, His teaching - left an indelible imprint with more impact than any other man who ever lived.

At Easter, let us rejoice that He proved life is continuous; indestructible; that His resurrection proved eternity does not start with death, but from the moment of mortal birth; that He proved our physical life of imperfections is only a prelude to spiritual perfection He promises us in His Heaven. When we reject Him, we reject the precious gift of Easter.

4-H members expected to double

Some 4-million young people now participate in 4-H. And before the decade of the 70's ends it's estimated that membership will double to 8-million, according to the figures projected by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H.

"Volunteer leadership requirements for such a greatly expanded 4-H program are awesome," says Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee.

He feels, however, that 4-H itself may furnish much of its needed leadership. Mindrum notes that in 1970 there were 150,042 young people active in the 4-H leadership program.

These boys and girls, proficient in their own 4-H activities, assumed the responsibility of working with younger, less experienced members in various programs and projects.

Often their work was performed with the guidance of adult local volunteer leaders, but just as often their work was with 4-H Clubs which they helped organize.

groups has fallen to older 4-H members.

One of the young leaders singled out to receive a national scholarship given by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation at the 1970 National 4-H Congress was Clayton Taylor, 18, of Rt. 1, Okkaha, Okla. Now in his freshman year at Oklahoma State University, the national winner is an example of the young leadership being developed in 4-H.

Taylor and his friends attempted to organize a 4-H Club in his elementary school. The matter was decided with a debate. The adviser and officers of the competing organizations had a chance to present their cases.

Horse research

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The two-year-old thoroughbred which Kentucky horsemen gave to visiting Republican governors at their conference two years ago has won $5,000 in races. A check for that amount was donated to a non-profit horse research foundation.

"I was the only person with any 4-H background, so it was four of them versus me before more than 100 students," Taylor remembers. In the end, the adviser conceded that 4-H was worthwhile, "and 57 students joined the junior and senior 4-H Clubs within an hour," the young man proudly admits.

Leadership is an integral part of every 4-H activity. And within the next nine years there will be about 8-million more potential and actual leaders ready to take up their roles as mature, responsible adults and citizens. They will have received their training by participating in the 4-H leadership program.

Veterans eligible for more benefits

About seven million World War II and Korean Conflict veterans who financed their homes with VA-guaranteed loans before May 7, 1968 are eligible for additional home loan benefits.

Robert M. FitzGerald, director of the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Detroit, said the veterans who may qualify have accrued about $37.5 billion in unused home loan benefits. These veterans are eligible for new benefits because they obtained loans during the years when the loan guaranty was substantially lower than now.

FitzGerald noted that the current VA loan guaranty maximum is $12,500 or 60 percent of the loan, whichever is less—a maximum in effect since May 7, 1968.

This compares with the $4,000 or 50 percent maximum guaranty, set when VA started its home loan program after World War II. This maximum was increased to $7,500 or 60 percent on September 1, 1951, and was raised to the current $12,500 maximum May 7, 1968.

The VA Regional Director explained that any veteran who financed his home with a VA-guaranteed loan before May 7, 1968, now has either $5,000 or $8,500 home loan entitlement available—depending on when he received his loan.

Veterans and servicemen who want to establish eligibility for entitlement remaining from their original GI loans are urged to contact the VA Regional Office at 801 W. Baltimore at Third, Detroit.

The leadership program is a vital, viable activity in every state. As 4-H continues its move into urban areas, much of the responsibility to organize and lead the new

Enrollments announced

Enrollments in the Special Education Program at Romulus Community Schools totaled 588. Assistant School Superintendent William E. Jakad announced.

The special education program embraces the following division: Educable Mentally Handicapped, 127 enrollments; Trainable Mentally Handicapped attending two Wayne area schools, 27 enrollments; Homebound Instruction (one instructor) with 12 enrollments.

Speech Therapy with four instructors who visit four Romulus elementary schools having a total of 387 enrollments. Physically Handicapped with six enrollments; and Social Workers with a case load as of January, 1971 of 29 enrollments. In this division there are two social workers handling the case load, Jakad said.

Piano is target of fund-raisers

Past graduates of Romulus Senior High School and other interested adults are being asked to join in a fund raising campaign entitled "Gift of Love."

A group of alumni met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edward Williams, 11140 Sterling, to initiate the fund raising drive for the purchase of a grand piano for the stage of the high school's new auditorium.

Contributions of $1 are being requested. Persons who donate to the cause are asked to submit their full names, and year of graduation for a contributors register.

"We are in urgent need of a grand piano for the stage at the high school's new auditorium. The pianos available in the school system are currently in use and most of them are run down," Mrs. Williams said.

The goal set by the group is $1,400.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. Williams at 941-0146.

Contributions may be sent to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mulberry, 37815 Wick Rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Dugan, 36709 Romulus; and Mel Morgan, 36680 McBride.

It is the hope of the fund raising group to have the piano in time for an "Evening of Music" to be held on May 1, for both students and adults of the community.

Council members installed

The newly elected members of the Parish Council at St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville were installed at the 10 a.m. Mass Sunday. The remaining members of the Parish Council renewed their Profession of Faith with the new members.

The new members are: Ray Van Buhler, Ted Center, Don Greca Jr., Odalee Hoeft and Sam Villa Sr.

Scout clean-up part of project

The City of Romulus got a little cleaner last Friday thanks to the boys of Scout Troop 830 of the Hayti Elementary School area.

With the help of Scoutmaster Denver Proffitt, Committeeman Ken Samuels and Webelos leaders Art Brown and Bruce Roberts, the boys filled 44 large plastic bags with litter gathered along neighborhood roadsides.

The clean-up was the second step of a project that is part of a national program called SOAR (Save Our National Resources).

Scouts Leland Guilford, Raymond Meyer and Steve Buck got the project under way by distributing a list of suggestions, based on environmental scientists reports, telling what the individual can do about pollution.

The next project will be a clean-up along the banks of the Huron River with a tree planting project in the future.

Why more people finance their homes at NBD than at any other bank.

This year, as in the past, more Detroit area people will come to see NBD about a home mortgage than will go to any other bank. We think their reasons will tell you a lot about our ways of putting families into the homes they want.

It isn't just the fact that we have more than 100 offices, although it's certainly convenient to do business right in your own neighborhood. And it isn't because we have more money to lend, although the fact that we're Michigan's largest bank let us keep right on making mortgages while certain other lenders were backing away from the business.

The real reason is that the NBD mortgage lending officer you talk with will put himself in your position. He has as much regard as you have for saving money through a single, low "flat fee" for closing as opposed to a percentage of the amount of the mortgage. He knows you won't want to incur a stiff penalty if you should someday need to prepay. He can help you weigh the pros and cons of low monthly payments versus the rate at which you build your equity.

At your nearby NBD office, you'll find a mortgage expert who'll be happy to sit down with you and talk over your needs. And you can pick up a copy of our new booklet, "Buying and Financing Your Home"—20 pages of facts and figures that every home buyer can use to advantage. Pay us a visit; we're here to help. The bank to see is NBD. National Bank of Detroit.

Symphony will perform Handel's Messiah

The Detroit Metropolitan Symphony and the Detroit Metropolitan Chorus will perform the Easter portion of Handel's oratorio, "Messiah," at 8 p.m. on Good Friday, at the Detroit Art Institute Auditorium.

Admission is free. Soloists are Joseph Mazzolini, Pamela Smith, Carroll Strickland and Susan Young. Charles Sumner will conduct.

Friday's concert will feature the second half or "Easter" portion of the Messiah, which is seldom performed. Several passages from the more familiar Christmas portion will be included, among them the famous "Hallelujah" Chorus.

Joseph Mazzolini, tenor, is a graduate of Michigan State University. He continued his voice training in Hollywood, where he sang in two motion pictures. A role in Villa Lobos' "Magdalena" took him to New York, where he worked in several Broadway musicals. He studied in Rome and Milan, then sang in opera throughout Italy, in Germany and Switzerland. In this country he has been soloist with the Detroit, Duluth and Louisville Symphony Orchestras.

Pamela Smith, alto, is majoring in music at Wayne State University. She is a member of three choirs at Wayne. The Chamber Singers, who will perform in Europe this summer, Choral Union and the Women's Chorus.

Carroll Strickland, bass, works for radio station WCHB. He is a graduate of Wayne State University and was a member of the men's glee club, Choral Union and the Madrigal Singers. He has appeared at the Bonstelle Theater, at Boris Goldovsky's Oglebay Opera Workshop, and in concert with the Detroit Chamber Music Society and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Susan Young, soprano, graduated from Fort Valley State College in Georgia and did further study at Indiana University, where she sang the title role in "Madame Butterfly." As an apprentice with the Santa Fe Opera, she sang the title role in "Tosca" and Mimi in "La Boheme."

The Detroit Metropolitan Symphony and the Detroit Metropolitan Chorus are sponsored by Wayne State University, Detroit Parks and Recreation and Detroit Metropolitan Black Arts.

Further information about the performance can be obtained by calling Shirley Harbin at 567-3911.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING—Mary Bensen and James Corrigan portray the warring Beatrice and Benedick in Shakespeare's comedy "Much ADO About Nothing", playing weekly in the spring repertory of the Hilberry Theatre. Performances are Thursday through Saturday at 8:30, plus two or three matinees each week, throughout April and May. Complete schedule and ticket information is available from the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office at 577-2972.

quality evolving from a rigid lineal technique. While a student of Josef Albers at Yale University, Anuszkiewicz was exposed to the subtle effects of interrelated color and pictorial space. He reveals a perceptive use of color contrasts in many of his later works.

The show includes paintings ranging in size from 12 inches square to 8 feet high. Each examines the delicate phenomena of color relationships in the color-saturated system which has been called optically dazzling.

The Gallery, on the seventh floor of Hudson's downtown store, is open during store hours.

The Detroit Artists Market exhibit featuring the works of Hughie Lee-Smith will be on display today through April 17 on the ninth floor of Hudson's downtown store. Lee-Smith will introduce his exhibit today.

A "Collector's Corner" featuring several of his paintings from well-known Detroit collections will be on display. A number of his new oils will be available for sale.

A total of 98 artists will display their paintings, sculpture, ceramics and hand-blown glass. The exhibit will include Richard Wilt's oil "Sunflower," hammered copper sculpture by Karl Fiffth, two geometric acrylics by Lillian Hoppin, softly muted collages by Shirley Kallus, oils by Detroit's primitive artist Fred Papsdorf and a vibrant oil, "Sunflowers and Mums," by three-time winner of the Founders Prize, Sarkis Sarkisian.

Little mystery in 'Pretty Maids'

Metro-Goldwyn Mayer presents "Pretty Maids All in a Row," directed by Roger Vadim, produced and screenplay by Gene Roddenberry from the novel by Francis Pollini. Metrocolor. Rated R. At the Quo Vadis Penthouse and Carmen with the following cast: Rock Hudson, Angie Dickinson, Telly Savalas, Roddy McDowall, Keenan Wynn, John David Carson.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

John Dickson Carr once said of Agatha Christie, "She has invented more ways of bamboozling the reader than any other living writer. While the reader is watching her deft characterization, in full view she palms the ace."

What Carr is suggesting is that a good mystery is inevitably a challenge between the author and his audience. When the challenge is missing the mystery is lost. And that pretty well sums up Roger

Vadim's latest film, "Pretty Maids All in a Row."

Vadim is given little to work with in a script by Gene Roddenberry which soddens its plot with irrelevant sex and absurd distractions which lack even the excuse of being respectable red herrings. The characters are predictable, the identity of the killer is telegraphed casually then handed prematurely to the audience for no satisfying purposes. In short, who cares?

Rock Hudson stars as the football coach and guidance counselor at Oceanfront High School, setting for a series of coed sex murders. Hudson is a philandering chaser who is having affairs with several of the students, and teachers alike in the security of his locked office.

Seeking the answer to the murders is Telly Savalas, a tough captain of the state police and Keenan Wynn, a crude local bull who moves in on the scene of one of the killings, in a school lavatory, and when it is suggested to him that the knot of people around the murder stall might trample some evidence—growls "Stop trampling the evidence." Savalas sends him out to direct traffic.

The chief intrusion is Hudson's pursuit of Angie Dickinson, a substitute teacher for whom Hudson devises a snare involving the student manager of the

Vandenberg Cubs hold annual derby

Cub Scout Pack 874 of Vandenberg Elementary School held its Pinewood Derby last week at its monthly meeting with three Cub Scouts emerging champions.

First place in the derby went to Jack Hinton who received a trophy and a ribbon. A second place ribbon went to Scott Cooley and a third place ribbon went to Mel Rumble.

BOY, CAN MY GIRL keep a secret! We've been engaged for a year, and I didn't know anything about it till Margie told me! And you guys who saw her nibbling my ear 'tother night, thought she was being personal? And after she told me all my future plans ... she tried to involve me in a few for right now! "Do TWO great things" she whispered. "Come with me to THE GOLDEN COIN, at 1870 S. Wayne Rd., in Westland, and spread the word about our Parent Drug Abuse Campaign! Wal ... I'm like the old accordionist who plays both ends against the middle ... I went! HEY, Frank Skrumbellos was practicing the Bunny Hop for Easter ... and the Waitresses were colorin' eggs ... and the Brandied Ham was lollin' around inna bunch of pineapple rings and red cherries ... next to a batch of ready-for-Easter Plump Spring frying Chickens ... and Bobby-the-famous-Bartender was concocting something so n-e-w for Easter ... that HE can't even tell his handsome partner what's-a-ll in it ... till Margie tells HIM! All you fans of good living and good eating and Margie ... you can enjoy Easter at THE GOLDEN COIN ... and there's a good possibility she'll come by ... or you can send ennywise liddle check to 608 N. Wayne Rd., to help the Campaign ... and she'll come by FOR SURE ... and thank you personally. But do it now — becuz The Coin will be closed Easter Sunday!

THE ANSWER TO "WHAT is the world coming to?" is, The Danish Inn! There's a great new Family in our Column "Family" of nice people ... and their name is BENSEK. Dad & Mother, Dick & Barbara Bensek keep this legend of a place going ... young Debbie and Rick help behind the scenes ... and Robin and Cindy are eagerly growing up and waiting their turn at the helm! Not new to the "Family" concept of entertainment and good food, Dick Bensek and his brother, Frank, were together for years in "The Casbah", on Plymouth Rd. Burned out in '61, Frank retired to Florida ... while Dick went to work for The Danish Inn and fell in love with it! He managed it from '61 til '64 ... then bought it. He added on to the original building ... and the Inn, along with its list of Admirers, grew! Not the least of the reasons for its great success is a VERY important member of the Inn Family: Showman Pat Flowers! ... we write ... we're playing a Pat Flowers recording. He's on Decca, Majestic, RCA ... and in the minds and hearts of music lovers from Beethoven ... through Boogie ... to right NOW. And THE DANISH INN, at 32305 Grand River Ave., in Farmington, is "where it's at!" This is not a one-time tale ... and long before we tell you the rest ... we sincerely recommend that you find out some of it for yourself! Except for Sundays, they're "at home" from 11 a.m. ... til 2 in the wee hours!

MICHELANGELO CLAIMED he even ATE better with a chisel in his hand! And so 'tis with me ... for here I sit at the IRON MASK (2849 Joy Rd., just off Middlebelt) with my fork in one hand ... and a pen in the other. My French Onion Soup steams in a heated crock (honest), and my "Roadhouse Style" Froggy legs are served with wild rice and almonds. This repeat could inspire Michelangelo! If you've passed this spot and said " ... but maybe next time", DON'T make that mistake again! If you've been here in the past and were familiar with the Mask when it "had another face" ... stop again. You'll think you're here for the FIRST time! It's a touch of King Arthur ... it's a quiet, pleasant place ... it's noisy and swingin' at the Bar ... and pleasant and family-style in the Dining Room. There's music ... pretty pretties ... GOOD and plentiful food, prepared by an expert Chef ... and The Iron Mask is unexcelled for prompt, attentive service. Now I ask you, could Michelangelo draw a better picture of how to spend a happy evening?

SAILING, SAILING! out to The Seven Seas ... we're coming in on the crest of a wave of Spring feeling that suddenly has everybody on the go! The new Easter idea of just the immediate Family dining out the day before Easter, brings back a special kind of togetherness that almost got lost in the rush, this winter past! Dress 'em all up (gives the girls a chance to look extra good twice inna row!) and take 'em all out for just-us-Family dining par excellence! And it's NOT the same-old-Easter-Ham, we'll promise you that! A VERY pleasant ride out Michigan to Ypsilanti, brings you to THE SEVEN SEAS, 1435 E. MICHIGAN just East of Harris! Saturday promises to be the nicest, tastiest day-before-Easter you ever enjoyed out, with TWO Chefs and a full kitchen staff working away at things like Prime Rib and Butterflied Tenderloin and Great Lakes Perch. And if they're old enuff ... keep them out til about 9 P.M., to enjoy the Singalong! They'll ALL say it's the Easter Weekend they'll always remember! The day they sang-along with Dee Greenfield ... the day Darrell Hewitt danced on the bar ... maybe even the day they met R. Don Newhouse! WHO is R. Don Newhouse?? Why, he's one of the reasons General Motors looks so good! Why doncha Easter early?? SINGALONG Spring in, this weekend!

We're telling it for the FIRST time right here ... and you'll taste it for the first time if you hurry down to the corner for some, because it'll really move! 'Mrs. Pollifax--Spy' is hard to believe

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Ever since Rosalind Russell started taking Auntie Mame pills she has been intrepid and dauntless but she reaches new heights in "Mrs. Pollifax--Spy" in which she plays a New Jersey widow who barges into the CIA one day to ask where she can apply for a job as a spy.

What ensues must not be considered with any degree of rational thinking, but should be viewed as a fantasy in similar vein to "The Wizard of Oz," which is not too much more improbable. On these grounds "Mrs. Pollifax" becomes enjoyable escapism.

fare-but only on these grounds.

The CIA--currently in the market for a courier who doesn't look like a courier--accepts her and sends her to Mexico City to bring back some microfilm. But she is kidnapped and, when the Communists are unable to find the microfilm--flown to Albania along with Darren McGavin, a more orthodox CIA man also captured, McGavin rumbles a lot and lets Mrs. Pollifax do most of the heavy thinking.

Since it might be too farfetched to have Mrs. Pollifax outwit the entire Albanian espionage network, there is only one ruthless intelligence agent assigned to her case in the lonely mountain fortress to which she is taken.

When he leaves temporarily, she passes to the hands of Berisha, a folksy and rather stupid army man, played by Nehemiah Persoff as a rather benign father-figure who responds to Mrs. Pollifax's messages and agrees to let her have a Christmas party because--"sniff"--she might not have another one.

By now she has stolen enough loot to risk an escape, thanks to the unexpected aid of a patriotic colonel who conveniently turns up in time to look the other way. Farrell, the agent played by McGavin, until now filled with scorn and disbelief, whose sole contribution to date has been getting shot while trying to go over a wall, decides to go along.

And so they slide down a mountain, pose as goatherds to reach a river and float down to safety when another Albanian decides to defect and overturns the launch chasing them.

I know how it reads on paper. It looks that way on the screen too. Rosalind Russell forges cheerily ahead, now taking out Farrell's bullet thanks to a first aid course she once had, now picking a guard's pocket, now putting on an act that would shame the Barrymores--ruthlessly determined to be benevolent and defying anyone not to like her.

Leslie Martinson guides the film with a deft hand. Like the James Bond movies, "Mrs. Pollifax--Spy" can be enjoyed, but only if you believe in fairies.

CELEBRATING A DECADE — Dr. Lawrence Cowan, a former Cherry Hill school psychologist, and Lee Morgan, a Cherry Hill bandsman, concentrate on the music before them as they participate in the Tenth Anniversary of Cherry Hill Bands held last weekend. More than 750 persons crowded into the school auditorium to hear the alumni and student band perform an evening concert.

At tenth anniversary

Oldtimers join Cherry Hill bands

Cherry Hill school musicians, former musicians and just ordinary band enthusiasts came from all over the nation last weekend to participate in the tenth anniversary celebration of the Cherry Hill bands.

The entire two-day event was made possible through donations by interested parents and band supporters in addition to the hard work of the musicians themselves.

"It was a wonderful experience. The entire program was very successful," Albert L. Werner the current band director, reported.

More than 750 persons jammed into the high school's Harry S. Truman Performing Arts Center to hear 115 musicians perform for the event.

The band was composed of current Cherry Hill bandsmen, graduates and specially invited adults. Cherry Hill Alumni musicians came from as far away as Texas and Louisiana to participate in the ceremonies.

Werner noted that the bank "had the momentum going for it that made the thing work. They were all in good spirits."

Werner commended the work of Sophomore Karin Mukavetz for her work as band historian. He explained that Miss Mukavetz put together three volumes of scrapbooks containing the rosters, achievements and activities of the Cherry Hill band for the past decade.

Werner also noted the work of Mrs. Ada Stenseng and Robert Hislop for their contribution to the advisory committee.

Mrs. William Hone and Pat Atkinson were responsible for contacting all the former Cherry Hill bandsmen with invitations to participate in the event.

The celebration was highlighted by the appearance of all the former Cherry Hill band directors. These directors were James O. Heirer, David Wolter, Joseph Zyskowski and Werner.

George Cavender, the director of bands at the University of Michigan, made a special appearance at the evening concert.

In addition to the evening concert, the Cherry Hill anniversary band held a matinee performance. The two day slate of activities included three dinners, a swim party and a social dance.

The band held three rehearsals with the guest directors during the two day period.

A German band composed of Cherry Hill faculty members gave a special performance to honor the bandsmen.

The event was the original idea of the Cherry Hill Band Booster Organization.

'Partnership for the Arts' is organized

A new nationwide volunteer organization called "Partnership for the Arts" has been organized with headquarters in Washington, D.C. Amyas Ames, chairman of the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, is the chairman of the organization.

The group was formed to call attention to the economic plight of the arts in this country and to urge citizens to write to congressmen to support full funding for the National Endowment for the Arts, the federal arts assistance agency. While Congress has been providing aid to the arts since 1966, in recent years, legislators have tended to actually appropriate smaller sums than are originally authorized.

The Partnership is working on behalf of all the arts — museums, orchestras, dance companies, theatres, poets, and all creative artists and craftsmen.

The Michigan "Partners" in this endeavor are Robert B. Semple, President of BASF Wyandotte Corp. and President of the Detroit Symphony; William M. Day, President of the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts and retiring Chairman of the Board of Michigan Bell; and Mrs. J. Woodward Roe of East Lansing, a member of the Chairman's Advisory Committee of the Michigan Council for the Arts.

President Nixon has stated that he approves of this funding. However, though Congress authorized $20 million for the current fiscal year, only $15 million was funded by the Appropriations Committee. A similar cut could be made in the pending legislation and such a cut would constitute a serious blow to the arts in Michigan as well as the entire country.

A letter writing campaign to the members of the House Appropriations Committee to ask for full funding — that the full $30 million be appropriated — is now under way in hundreds of communities.

Those who wish to write letters should address them to one of two Michigan members of the House Appropriations Committee: Donald J. Rieglo (District 7) Room 1408, Longworth House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515; Elford Cedarberg (District 10) Room 2303, Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

U-D Chorus to perform

The University of Detroit's Chorus, a mixed vocal ensemble of approximately 50 students, will present their Spring Chorus Concert April 19, at 4 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom on the McNichols campus. The group is directed by Don Large.

Selections to be included in this year's Spring Concert point to the well-balanced variety of songs which have helped to make the Chorus popular with various diverse audiences.

The Chorus rises above the usual repertoire of college groups by presenting a balance of sacred, classical and popular selections plus folk songs, spirituals and recent Broadway hits.

Tickets for the Spring Chorus Concert will be available at the door, and are priced at $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Indian children's art at museum

An exhibit of art by students at the Taos Pueblo Indian School can be seen at the Children's Museum through April. These pictures reflect the interest and skill of the boys and girls who live at beautiful Taos Pueblo in New Mexico.

Under the guidance of their teacher, Constantine Aiello, these students have been encouraged to express themselves freely using such simple materials as crayons and felt tip markers.

A book of the pictures done by seventh and eighth grade students entitled "Oo-onah Art" has been published to help raise funds for developing an Art Center at their school and the contribute toward the health and welfare of the tribe's children. Many of the young artists featured in the book have pictures in the current exhibit.

Throughout the book there are poems by Joseph Concha and Anthony Lujan which greatly enhance it.

Guest addresses baseball group

James Aitchison, fifth district administrator for Little League Baseball, Williamsport, Pa., was the guest-speaker at the recent special board meeting of the Romulus Youth Baseball Association.

Aitchison answered many questions that were presented by the association's board members and helped to clear up many points of interest, Doug Baum, association president, reported.

Aitchison reported that the attendance at the meeting was good and added that this "is very important to the success of Little League."

The board of directors approved an insurance plan to go into effect immediately and which will cover all the boys playing baseball with the association.

Stan Gnas, association official, reported that there is an urgent need for volunteer umpires.

Persons who may be interested can call him as soon as possible at 941-1254.

A team can always do without a player or two but an umpire is a must, Gnas stated in asking for volunteers to "come out and call em like you see em."

The association also issued a reminder that the baseball team jackets must be ordered by April 15.

Continuing funds for project urged

President Nixon and members of Congress are being urged by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to provide new and continued financing of improvements on the Rouge River.

In resolution adopted at its April 1 Board meeting, the Commissioners ask that "all efforts be exerted to provide sufficient funds to the Army engineers in the fiscal year 1973."

Approval of the request would enable work to continue on an uninterrupted basis, since these funds would finance work south of the I-94 bridge. Work north of the bridge is scheduled to be completed in 1972.

The resolution, submitted by Commissioner John Lesinski of Dearborn (D-District 20), was directed to Nixon, Congressmen from Wayne County, plus the Chairman of the Public Works Committee, the Office of Chief of Army Engineers, and the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The resolution points out that parts of the communities of Dearborn, Detroit, Allen Park, Melvindale and River Rouge are subject to dangers of flooding until work south of the I-94 bridge is completed.

Flooding of the Ford Motor complex is also mentioned as a possibility, which would "result in work stoppage for possibly some months, and would severely harm the many hourly and salaried workers from surrounding communities." "Damage of many untold millions of dollars could result to industry, commerce, utilities, educational, residential and vehicular highways", says the resolution.

For Michigan championship

Trouble Shooting set

The 1971 Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest will be held April 30 on downtown Detroit's Kern block to determine the State championship.

Seventy five high schools throughout Michigan including Romulus and Huron Township High Schools are now selecting their top mechanical students those who excel both in the classroom and in actual mechanical work - for their teams.

The contest will be one of about 100 scheduled throughout the United States this spring.

Winners in regional meets receive trips to the National Trouble Shooting Finals in Indianapolis June 14, 15 and 16 at the famed "500" Speedway. There they will compete for more than $125,000 worth of college scholarships and other awards.

The extra emphasis on the scholastic side of the contest this year was stressed by both Plymouth executives and school officials, according to the Plymouth Regional Service Manager.

This year, some teams will be eliminated following the written examination as a further inducement for students to master their classroom work.

A team consists of two students, and those who survive the written examination will then be assigned a deliberately sabotaged car to be put in running condition. All of the cars will be identical and will have a series of identical malfunctions installed beneath the hood - more problems than would occur in the average car's lifetime. Teams will race the clock and each other to restore the cars to normal running condition.

The contest is sponsored by Plymouth dealers in the area as a means of encouraging students to complete their education and to seek careers in the automobile mechanics field. Many dealers employ Trouble Shooters as apprentice mechanics.

Educators seeking to prevent reading failure

Eighty concerned educators—40 teachers and 40 paraprofessionals, teachers' aides—from 12 Wayne County school districts are acquiring expertise in the area of reading failure prevention.

Officially, the name of the project is Paraprofessional Training-R. "R" stands for Reading and more specifically: the prevention of reading failure.

The project prepares teachers and aides to identify potential reading failures at the early primary level (K-3). Such early identification via extra instructional effort is necessary to prevent children from becoming reading failures through the instructional guidance of Miss Dolores Olszewski.

These 80 trainees are learning it is far better to prevent reading failure than attempt to remedy the failures of pupils in the upper grades.

"During our four-week training sessions," Miss Olszewski explained, "we deal with both the theoretical and practical aspects of reading instruction. We always emphasize the practical, day-to-day interactions between children and paraprofessionals."

"A variety of reading approaches are used, with special instruction given in the use of diagnostic materials and prescriptive lessons developed by the Intermediate District's reading consultant, Dr. Rachel G. Brake," concludes Miss Olszewski.

Governor sets 'Arbor Week'

Governor William E. Milliken has proclaimed the week of April 18-24 as Arbor Week in Michigan.

In urging the planting of trees during this week Governor Milliken points out that aside from the harvest of wood, fruits and beauty, Michigan's more than 90 species of trees serve a vital function in today's increasingly polluted world as they help combat air pollution by removing carbon dioxide from the air and give off oxygen.

Because Michigan's more populated areas are those most in need of trees, it is to our advantage that this natural asset be enlarged and that preservation, conservation and restoration of trees be considered a major step in continuing the benefits of this heritage, the proclamation states.

He suggests that various programs seeking to cope with the environmental crises facing people such as the nurserymen's Green Survival program are to be encouraged.

Michigan's forests covering more than half of Michigan's land area have been the basis for great industries throughout our history and help make Michigan one of the most beautiful of all states.

Celebrating Arbor Week with proper ceremonies and the planting of trees will be a constant reminder of a priceless gift we must preserve for this and future generations, he declared.

As in the past the Governor will plant a tree on the State Capitol lawn furnished by the Michigan Association of Nurserymen who as in the past will place a potted evergreen tree on the desk of each legislator.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources in cooperation with the nurserymen's association has prepared a special pamphlet giving full information for the observance of Arbor Week.

They may be obtained free from the department's Publication Room, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan 48926

Dancers featured at scout meeting

Cub Scout Pack 735 met at Cory Elementary School to make awards and enjoy the dancing of Max Nelson's Honor Scouts called "The Order of The Arrow" and Mrs. Nelson's Huron Valley Girl Scout Indian Dancers.

"They were just great," said Mrs. Gloria Chandler, pack "Our boys didn't budge through the whole thing."

Assistant Cub Master Rick Martin took over awards duties for ailing Cub Master LeRoy Sims. He made awards as follows:

Bob Cat Pins, Joey Waiter,

Billy Gaun; Webelos awards: Sportsman and Craftsman; Jerry Cusmano, Outdoorsman, Artist, Scholar and Showman; Connelly Phillips, Engineer, Forester, Naturalist, Outdoorsman, Artist and Scholar to Michael Cole, Outdoorsman to Robert Gaun.

Mrs. Mary Ann Waiter was introduced as the new Den Mother for Den One. Mrs. Judy Martins Den Three prepared Easter decorated refreshments for the meetings. The pack's meeting was held on April 1

Job injuries can be avoided

Fifty thousand persons suffered disabling injuries on the job in Michigan during the past year, the Michigan Department of Labor reported.

Safety experts contend that most of these injuries could have been avoided through use of safe work procedures and by correcting unsafe conditions. However, a few of the injured employees appear to have been victimized by unusual circumstances.

For instance, records show that an automobile mechanic suffered severe burns on his hands when he accidentally discharged a teargas gun which had been concealed in the car he was repairing.

In another incident, a saleslady received head and back injuries when an automobile crashed through the front door of the jewelry store where she was employed and struck her.

A store clerk suffered a severed wrist artery when a customer knocked over a lamp display on him.

However, most of the 50,000 injuries were not of the unusual variety and could have been avoided by eliminating unsafe acts and unsafe conditions, safety consultants point out.

Commissioners set County Ethnic Week

Honoring the second annual Conference on Ethnic Communities of Greater Detroit,

Janecki's purchase business

The purchase of Harbor Light Bar, N. US-25, Harbor Beach, by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Janecki, former Belleville residents, was reported Monday.

Phil Janecki Sr., who retired from General Motors Corp and is now in Bad Axe, Mich., purchased the bar from Ray LeGault, who operated the business for 16 years.

Phil Janecki Jr., will be the manager of the establishment.

Installment plan

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — An Iraqi citizen who owns three thousand ancient coins is selling them to the government. The government is paying by installments.

THE STAR — Keith Young was "Tom Sawyer" in the Edgemont School's production of the noted play. School officials reported two successful performances of the four-act presentation before standing room only audiences last two weekends.

Price-support loan selling needs approval

Farmers who decide they want to sell or use farm-stored commodities such as wheat, oats, barley, rye, corn, grain sorghum, dry edible beans, or honey which they have placed under price support loan through the county ASCS office must obtain prior approval before moving such commodities, according to Arthur Monks, chairman of the Wayne County ASC Committee.

Written authorization can be readily obtained in the county office, he stated, and is necessary to protect the Government's interest in the commodities under loan, since certain legal documents such as notes and chattel mortgages are involved.

Producers may make arrangements by writing to the county office, by personal visit or by a telephone call. However, the written authorization will be issued only upon request of the producer who has the loan.

He also added that producers who plan to use the stored commodity must first repay the price support loan at the county office. In instances where the commodity is being sold, the producer, he explained, must provide the name of the buyer and meet other requirements which include repaying the loan within 15 days from the date the removal was authorized.

Parades, a Grand Ole Opry show, a carnival and the coronation of the National Trout Queen as well as Boy Scout Troop 1071 of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville is sponsoring a family spaghetti supper from 3 to 6 p.m. April 17 at the church hall.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years of age.

Proceeds of the family spaghetti supper will be used by the troop for its summer camping program.

To hard hit snow-belt areas in outstate areas this may be a welcome reminder as spring weather tarries. In many

Lodge marks birthday

Approximately 80 members and friends of Galaxy Lodge No. 384 100 F of Belleville assembled at the Moose Hall, on Saturday, March 28 to salute Galaxy Lodge on its 84th birthday.

It was in 1887, that Galaxy Lodge received its charter. Many well known persons of the little village of Belleville were charter members. There are a great number of descendants of these old timers still residing here, and many of them still are members of the Oddfellows.

There have been four mayors of Belleville, who have been Noble Grands, three of whom still live around Belleville.

Mrs. Olive Caswell, Noble Grand of Astral Rebekah Lodge of Belleville, gave the Invocation. The address of welcome was given by Everett Meggitt, Noble Grand of Galaxy Lodge, and the response by Mrs. Mae Fielder, A Past Noble Grand of Astral Rebekah Lodge.

One of the highlights of the evening was the presence of Clarence Murray and his wife. He is Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Michigan. He was introduced by the master of ceremonies Adrian Wright.

Other dignitaries were also introduced and welcomed. Another feature was the presence of five local residents, who have between them over 253 years of membership in Galaxy Lodge, they are as follows:

Darryl Raymond, 60 years;

Ernest Young, 51 years; Henry Deering, 47 years; Clarence Heining, 47 years; and Albert Mida, 47 years.

The Grand Master presented one of the brothers with his 50 year jewel, the other one had his presented previously. He also presented Herbert Mida, Past Noble Grand, with his Past Noble Grands Collar.

The reading of the history of Galaxy Lodge was read by Frank Reinhackel.

They must have been very dedicated members to have attended that first meeting, as it did not break up until 4:30 in the morning, according to the reading of the minutes.

The history of the founding of the Rebekah Order was read by Mrs. Effie Kerbyson. It was founded in 1845.

In his remarks, Clarence Murray told a few facts that are not ordinarily made public. One of them was that over the years over four and one half million dollars has been spent for the relief of the distressed, that over 51,000 aged people have been assisted in many ways, that millions of dollars has been spent for eye research, that the oddfellows have a beautiful home in Jackson, Mich., where members are eligible to go and where they are made to feel like they are guests.

Even married couples are allowed to stay as married couples. A home away from home, as one person ably described it.

James Briese, Anton Nagy and Mrs. William Harby were appointed to operate as an advertising committee.

The next meeting of the association was scheduled for April 1.

The Huron Civic Association also named a Committee on By-laws composed of William Manning, Gasper Marton, Nick Petrovick, Don Engle, Ross McLean and John McKinney.

A group was also appointed to list topics for discussion. They are Richard Burgess, chairman, and Allen Clark and Vern Moore.

Nurserymen warn against con-men

The increased public desire to improve environment and fight air pollution by planting trees, shrubs and flowering plants causes warning to be sounded against miracle plant con men and the miracle plant racket by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Michigan Association of Nurserymen. Plants give off oxygen and absorb carbon dioxide.

Home gardeners are warned against high pressure salesmen and mail order advertisers using fancy names for ordinary shrubs and plants and making exaggerated claims for their plant material.

Beware of glowing word descriptions and faked photographs of climbing vine peaches, giant climbing strawberries, 1,000 giant red roses on a single bush, flowering shade trees that grow roof high in a single year, etc.

"All consumer complaints, including verbal high quality stock at misrepresentations are received by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office and appropriate action is taken," said Assistant Attorney General Edwin M. Bladen. "It is our experience that purchasers who deal with established local merchants can see what they are buying and are not misled by photographs or lurid verbal pictures."

"There are reliable mail order houses but their is no substitute for the expert service on selection, planting and care of the plant that your local nurseryman can give you," said MAN Executive Secretary Victor C. Beresford.

"He wants to protect your interests so he can continue to serve you. That's why we advise - 'Ask Your Nurseryman First'."

"One cannot expect to get high quality stock at ridiculously low prices," said Dean F. Lovitt, chief of the plant industry division of the Dept. of Agriculture. "Purchasers should always demand a certificate of inspection with the stock as their assurance that it has passed inspection for insects and disease. Local nurserymen usually are familiar with local conditions and the varieties likely to do well in an area, and their advice can be helpful," he said.

Davis Named to AP All-State Team

Nate Davis, who shattered the records of such Romulus cage greats as Lloyd and Shaler Halimon, is among those high school Class A prep stars picked today by the Associated Press to the mythical All-State Class A team.

Davis, a 6-5 center who played on a team made up of two sophomores, a junior and senior, scored 575 points and hauled down 512 rebounds in leading Romulus to one of its best seasons in over a decade.

With offers from such schools as Jacksonville University, Stanford, Northwestern, Michigan State University, Nate appears to be well on his way in following the footsteps of two former Eagle cage greats - Halimon, presently playing with the Portland Trailblazers, and Lloyd Ward, who captained last year's MSU squad.

"In order to save time, is there anyone here who is against automatically putting Campy Russell and Lindsay Hairston on the AllState team? the chairman asked.

The silence was unanimous and the sportswriters from throughout Michigan then proceeded to choose the other eight players for the Associated Press high school basketball Class A All-State team. The meeting was held last week in Lansing.

It might have taken an extra hour just to list the statistics and words of praise for Russell and Hairston. They are prep legends whose careers have drawn enough attention to make them two of the most nationally sought after players in the history of Michigan.

Russell, 6-8 star at Pontiac Central, and Hairston, 6-9 star at Detroit Kettering were on last year's 10-player AP All-State squad as juniors, along with Frank Tanana of Detroit Catholic Central.

Tanana is also a repeater on this year's team, while others chosen were Steven Rhodin of Ypsilanti, Tom McGill of Flint Northern, Ray Feher of Alpena, Tom Kangas of Escanaba, Nate Davis, Scott Love of Birmingham Groves, and Jim Helmink of Holland. Feher is a junior, the rest seniors.

RUSSELL hasn't indicated where he plans to go to college, but NCAA champion UCLA, Michigan, St. Bonaventure and Jacksonville are only a few of the schools trying to recruit the sensation. He averaged 25 points a game and 21 rebounds but is an all-around standout with great jumping and defensive ability. In the past two seasons Pontiac Central had a 42-2 record and was 58-6 during his three years on the team.

HAIRSTON reportedly has been contacted by up to 30 colleges. He averaged 25 points, 23 rebounds and seven blocked shots a game this season in leading Kettering to a runnerup spot in the state championship game. Hairston, who looks somewhat like Lew Alcindor of the Milwaukee Bucks, sank 60 per cent of his shots from the floor this season and 80 per cent from the free throw line. He was double teamed in the 79-78 title loss to Flint Northern but still managed 23 points and a fantastic 27 rebounds.

TANANA, a 6-3 all-around performer, has a fine outside shot but also drives the baseline well from the corner or down the middle. His father, Frank Tanana Sr., was an All-Stater in 1952 at Detroit St. Andrew.

RHODIN had a modest 15.6 scoring average for an Ypsilanti squad which finished 15-2 and third in the final AP poll. But Coach Dick Quellette explains: "Once he found out he could whip you, he didn't take advantage of you. He didn't want to make people look bad. What he wanted was to make his own teammates look good." He says the 5-11 guard is a "fantastic ball-handler, great passer and good defensive player" who could score when the team needed it but who never needed it himself to be happy. His high was 39 points.

McGILL set career and single season scoring records at Flint Northern this year and led his team to the state championship and a 22-2 record. The 6-3 center averaged 23 points a game, hitting 53 per cent of his field goals. His coach, Bill Frieder, says McGill is not blessed with great natural talent but rather has developed his skills through hard work.

FEHER, an all-A student, broke all Harvey Marlatt's school scoring records except one in leading Alpena to a 16-5 record, which ended with eight point loss in the regionals to eventual champ Flint Northern. Marlatt is now with the Detroit Pistons. The 6-3 junior needs only 200 points to eclipse Marlatt's career mark. He averaged a phenomenal 31 points a game, with 51 in one contest. Feher is also quarterback of the football team.

KANGAS, a 6-4 forward, averaged 27 points a game and owns the Escanaba record of 1,190 career points. He scored 20 points or more in 22 consecutive games and was in double figures the last 39 games. Kangas was probably the best allaround player in the Upper Peninsula this season.

DAVIS is Romulus' first All-Stater. The 6-5 senior set a school scoring and rebounding record previously held by Shaler Halimon, now of the Portland Trailblazers. Davis averaged 28.7 points a game and 25.6 rebounds as Romulus finished 13-7 for its best mark in 23 years. He hauled in an unbelievable 42 rebounds this year against Willow Run—and also had 36 points. Nearly 140 colleges have expressed interest in him and 52 have made firm offers.

LOVE, a 6-6, 175-pounder, averaged six assists, 25 points and 19 rebounds a game in leading Groves to its second straight Northwest Suburban League title. He is a very good shooter from outside and is an excellent dribbler. Love shot 54 per cent from the floor.

HELMINK is another fine outshooter. The 6-3 standout helped Holland to a 14-2 season, pumping in an average of 26 points a game. Helmink also has good speed.

Youth holds key to Chiefs success

A heavy roster of untried and inexperienced players is the question mark surrounding the success of Huron's baseball campaign. If coach Ron Smith can fit the youngsters together into a good defensive alignment to complement his strong hitting attack, the Chiefs could be ready to tackle most opponents in the Huron League this spring.

Smith has the batting punch again with the return of Butch Suemnick who hit at a crisp .440 clip last year, Jack Gracia, who smacked out a .412 average and Don Delano who will be the big guns in the Chiefs hitting attack.

Pitcher Ron Thompson was a standout performer as a sophomore and Smith is resting his pitching hopes on the junior hurler this year. As a sophomore, Thompson won three games in the 1970 campaign and was the only member of the Huron mound corps to win more than one game.

Delano is being transferred to second base as Smith tries to rebuild his infield. Delano is the only returning infielder and was a shortstop last season. Smith must fill holes at first base, shortstop and third base as well as behind the plate in order to field a strong defensive team. These slots must be filled with untried players and Smith is hoping that the youngsters can put together a strong year to better Huron's 1970 mark of six wins and 14 losses.

All three outfielders from the 1970 campaign are back and the Chiefs are confident that all three can put together strong seasons, both in the field and with the bat.

Catholic Central, last year's league champion, appears to be the team to beat again as they have the majority of the championship group returning for another crack at the title. Carlson and Airport also appear to be title contenders in the Huron league.

Smith noted that if the Chiefs can put together a tight defense to go along with their strong hitting attack, they will be ready for anybody.

Two early games have already been cancelled due to bad weather conditions.

The Chiefs expect to get into Regularaction after the Easter holidays. Smith added that bad weather has kept practice sessions inside. "We've only been able to get out onto the field once during practice sessions so far, and I hope we can get some outdoor work in before we start playing the games."

The Tigers have three Canadians on their 1971 roster -- Bernie Beckman, John Hiller and Mike Kilkenny. All three are lefthanded pitchers from Ontario.

Thugs must be stopped

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

"Poor sports," said the man next to me. "Those Detroiters are nothing but poor sports. They can't take defeat."

Stunned with what was going on on the basketball court I didn't know what to say.

I had seen similar incidents this year — at Adrian where after Ann Arbor Pioneers whipped Romulus for the regional high school basketball title and mayhem broke loose, ending with two of the cagers suffering knife wounds, scores of windows broken and other property damage which will take the taxpayers' monies to replace.

And now, the most prestigious athletic event on the Michigan High School Athletic Association's calendar, the finals of the Class A basketball tournament, was being turned into a sham by a group of rowdy fans who refused to accept the outcome of the game.

Kettering, a heavy favorite to capture the titled, failed Saturday to stop a determined Flint Northern and lost the state "A" title 79-78. Kettering players accepted the decision gracefully - they even tried to control their own fans from coming on the floor but were met with swimming fists.

How many were injured? Who knows.

But the imprint left an indelible mark on those adults who saw that game. What if there were not enough police to control that crowd? What if Kettering's players hadn't tried to cool their fans — there is no doubt in my mind that the teenage thugs would have torn Crisler Arena and anyone who got in their way to shreds.

And it comes down to this: either we quickly "shape up" or forget high school athletics. You've read it here once before, but believe me, if the trend isn't stopped soon, there WILL BE NO MORE HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

Those of us who are old enough remember that prep sports were curtailed during World War II in order to channel our energies for the war. And prep sports can be curtailed if not completely eliminated today. With nearly all of the school districts going begging for money, none can afford the costly repairs that these "dropouts" are causing.

Though I don't believe in condemning a city, Detroit, as the fan did for the outburst Saturday night, I do believe each school must come up with some sort of policy of its own to prevent further incidences.

Some will argue, we don't need competitive sports. What has happened will happen again.

I can't agree.

If ever there were a need of understanding it is now. Through these events high school students meet others whom if, not for sports, they would never had met.

Some of my most pleasurable experiences in high school were those of people I became acquainted with through athletics. These friendships - in white as well as black communities - are perpetuated till this very day.

Cut off the exchange and we truly will be a divided nation.

Dave Court, the rookie basketball coach at Romulus, had something to say about that incident at Adrian. Here's his message:

"Although the incident which occurred in our last ball game somewhat marred our season, I would like to take this opportunity to remind basketball fans in the area that this should not be taken as a reflection on the entire student body.

"Rather, it is the perpetuated act of one or two sick individuals.

"I would like to congratulate the community of Romulus for the dedicated effort and support which was given to me and my staff this season. Our team was extremely young and inexperienced, but through many hours of concentrated effort on their part, we were able to produce the finest Romulus team in years.

"The students and staff at Romulus lived and died with us through many of those one and two points games and the community on a whole became sold on our program which was so greatly appreciated.

"Again, thank you for supporting my staff and I."

ROMULUS CITY CHAMPIONS - The Taylor Athletic Club took a breather from basketball long enough to receive their trophies as champions of the Romulus adult basketball league champions. By winning the title, the Romulus champions took part in the inter-city upper division basketball tournament, played in Romulus last week.

Thinclads off and running

Belleville track coach Ken Head feels he is off to a good start and a great year. His Belleville Tigers have had impressive performances at the Huron Relays in Ypsilanti and the Spartan Relays at Michigan State University. The Tigers finished second behind Ann Arbor Huron at the Huron Relays and tied for third place in the Spartan Relays. Both meets had a representation of over 70 class A schools.

Eagles looking strong

Romulus baseball coach, Lowell Johnson, is looking forward to a successful 1971 campaign as he prepares a team loaded with seniors and experience. Johnson will field a squad consisting of nine seniors, three juniors and only one sophomore.

"We've got three lettermen coming back and our seniors should add experience to the squad. Our bench looks good and I'm optimistic about the coming season," Johnson said.

On the mound, Johnson is resting his hopes on Leighton Ballard, an All-Area pick last year who will lead the Eagles' mound corps. Ballard has had some control problems during early practice sessions, but Johnson is confident that the senior hurler will come around by the start of the campaign.

Lettermen Frank Mayeran will handle the chores at the third base spot. Mayeran should have a good year at the hot corner and Johnson hopes he will give the Eagles a solid performance on defense.

Right Fielder Bill Eager is the other lettermen on the Romulus squad. Eager will add experience and defensive strength in the outfield this year.

Johnson is resting his title hopes on a group of varsity players who showed great potential last year as reserves. Coming off of outstanding seasons with the reserve team last year are first baseman

Tim McMann, second sacker Bill Ward and senior Keith Simmons, center fielder who didn't play last season.

Sophomore Virgil Smith at short stop has shined in the field during junior high school competition and the Eagles look forward to three strong years from the promising youngster.

Senior Rod Leake will handle the catching duties this season. As a reserve backstop last season, Leake showed promise but was unable to break into the varsity starting lineup, but he gained valuable experience by playing regularly with the reserves.

Johnson said that the Twin Valley League will be strong and balanced. The Eagles finished with a 12-6 record last season, good for a second place tie, but were victimized by heavy graduation losses. "I think only Ecorse was the only team to lose as much as we did," Johnson said, but we are still a team to be reckoned with and anyone who considers us a pushover is in for surprise."

Johnson analyzes the team as having good strength in talent with capable starters on the bench. "With the talent we have we should be tough this season," Johnson added, "With all those seniors on the squad, we want to go out in a blaze of glory, and I feel we have the talent and the depth to do so."

Weather permitting, the Eagles were scheduled to open the campaign on Monday against Cherry Hill followed by another non-league title against Wayne Memorial on Wednesday. The league campaign is not scheduled to start until May 3 when Romulus plays host to Willow Run. The Eagles will have nine contests to work out the rough spots before entering league competition.

Too much hair

France imported so much horsehair from Germany for wigs in the 17th century that it upset the trade balance. Colbert, finance minister to Louis XIV, sought vainly to have wigs banned, fearing the French treasury would be drained of gold.

Local bowmen win big prizes

This season's first money tournament in competitive archery saw 19 Belleville Archery Club members bring home $210 in prize money from Robin Hood Archery Lanes in Lansing.

Open to all shooters, the first annual Capital City Open brought over 100 competitors from Michigan, Indiana and Canada to vie for the $1,000 in cash prizes. In order to give everyone a chance to win, the prize money was divided into 20 flights or groups. Groups were determined by the scores recorded in the first two

Commissioners' subcommittee probes alleged housing abuse

Records of mortgage foreclosures by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) will be recalled from Washington, D.C., as a special subcommittee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners pursues its investigation of alleged abuse within the housing program.

Meeting with both federal and county officials recently the five-member subcommittee announced its investigative staff and asked an FHA official to make files available for their review.

The subcommittee, jointly chaired by Commissioners Paul Silver and Rose Mary C. Robinson, is investigating a pattern of buying and selling of older homes in the inner city areas, a practice they charge is excessively profitable because of high FHA appraisals.

Among those attending were representatives of social service or public agencies who pledged the full cooperation and assistance of their organizations. These include the Wayne County Board of Social Services, the University of Detroit Center for Urban Law and Housing, the Wayne County neighborhood Legal Services, and the Detroit area Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Appointed to the subcommittee's investigative staff are Kenneth Brown and Adam Angelas, respectively, from the Criminal and Civil divisions of the Wayne County Office of prosecuting Attorney. To facilitate the review of tract index records, Commissioner Silver said that another staff member will be requested from the office the County Register of Deeds.

Helen Theopilis, assistant to the Director of Detroit area HUD, said that her office will provide, as needed, any number of files from central record sources in Washington, D.C. She said that instances of 3,500 foreclosures in metropolitan Detroit have been filed there in the past two years.

The investigative procedure calls for these records to be correlated with material furnished by the local social service agencies which have researched complaints from the low-income families said to be the largest group victimized by the high appraisals.

Beware of old cans Agriculture head says

Ever wonder if those aging cans of food in your cupboard are still safe to eat? If they are more than one year old, the safest thing is to toss them out, according to B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

What often appears to be a perfectly sealed container may have developed pin holes from rust, or from acid eating away at the can inside. Sometimes, even a scratch or a dent in a container can break the seal and allow air to enter.

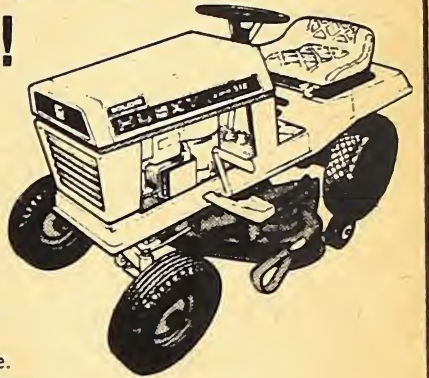

"When air seeps into the container, microbial action produces spoilage within a very short time," Ronald M. Leach, Food Inspection chief, said. "If the ends of the can are swollen or bulged, it is a good indication the item has spoiled and is producing pressure on the container."

Some vegetables and fruits are high in acid content and have a much shorter shelf life than canned milk products or other processed foods. All canned foods should be stored in a dry place at a temperature of 70 degrees or less, Leach said.

Rotation of canned goods can prevent loss due to spoilage, Leach added. Fruit juices should be rotated every three to six months, and prepared foods every six months to one year.

If you have a question about canned or processed food, contact your local Food Inspection office or the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Food Inspection division, Lansing, Michigan 48913.

Head reports that the attitude on the team is good and that they have been working hard since the opening practice. "We've got the talent this season and I'm confident that we will be successful."

Belleville's next competition is a tri-angular meet with Ypsilanti and Cherry Hill at Ypsilanti next Wednesday, they will then travel to the Mansfield Relays the next weekend, where Pettus will defend his high jump title. Pettus holds the record for the high jump at the Mansfield event.

Golf coach Sam Vicchy isn't quite as lucky as he has to build a squad around only three lettermen. The Tiger golfers are faced with the problem of building a team out of only onesenior, with the rest being juniors and sophomores.

Vicchy is placing much of this season's success on the shoulders of Craig Barnett, Steve Burnwell and Ron Lindsay. The trio all have varsity experience, but are the only members of the team who can claim experience of any sort.

Vicchy began practice rounds on Monday preparation for the opening match against Plymouth on April 19. "We're young and inexperienced," Vicchy said. "But we might be able to build a strong team for next year by letting the youngsters gather some experience."

Grain program statistics given

After 13 days of signup participation in the 1971 Wheat and Feed Grain Programs, there were 25,978 Michigan farms enrolled in the Wheat Program and 26,918 farms enrolled in the Feed Grain Program. The Statistics were given by Nick Smith, Chairman, Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Nationally the signup CAP tests network

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) radios across the nation were brought into action recently to receive a test message to determine the efficiency of the radio network, it was announced.

The messages used were originated at the national headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol, located at Maxwell AFB, Ala., then dispatched through regions, state and to local radio operators and back again.

The members of Metro Emergency Services Senior Squadron (radio squadron) was headed by Lt. Edward L. DeZomits of 11364 Inkster Rd., Romulus.

The radio testing program received assistance from Major Alan Creighton of the Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron and his Cadets and by Major Mike Donovan of the Cherry Hill Squadron and his Cadets.

Officials in charge of the test reported that it was a huge success in Michigan and throughout the country.

Highway meeting scheduled

The second quarterly meeting of the Inter-County Highway Commission will be held at the Sheraton Metro Inn, 8600 Merriman Rd., Romulus, at 10 a.m. April 12.

Reporting of the private and public utilities companies' 1971 construction programs that affect county and state right-of-way will occupy the morning session.

In past session many problems have been prevented due to the coordination and cooperation between county and state utility firms and the county and state highway commissions.

Recreation director is sought

Van Buren Township Recreation Commission seeks applicants for the directorship of the township summer recreation program. Township Clerk Mrs. Erma Jean Payne announced Monday.

The township is looking for an experienced person and preferably a township resident.

Applications should be sent to Mrs. Joyce Rinaldi, commission secretary, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Deadline for the submission of applications to the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd. is April 23.

FOLK GUITAR CLASS — Members of a popular Folk Guitar Class at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, Romulus, begin to make music after only five weeks of instructions. The classes are arranged as part of the enrichment portion of the school district's

Easter Seal workers doubling fund efforts

Easter Seal volunteers are doubling their efforts to assure the success of the 1971 Appeal for funds to provide services to crippled children and adults, as the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults readies its plans for summer day camp.

Eight weeks of summer fun at the Easter Seal Center in Inkster is one of the long established Easter Seal services in this area.

The local society serves as a social adjustment center in which children and adults may learn new skills and make new friends in spite of physical limitations.

George Winfield, a teacher in the Wyandotte School District, will return as director of the program for his third season. The Cherry Hill School District will again arrange transportation through co-operating school districts for the crippled children enrolled during the school year in the regional special education program there, as well as providing a special education teacher and an aide for the staff.

Children from all areas of Wayne County are eligible for the camp, which is one of the services available as a result of response to the distribution of Easter Seals, and its related activities.

Crippled children between the ages of four and twelve years of age will be in camp between June 21 and July 30, with occasional excursions, field trips and special events arranged by community groups with the help of the staff.

The program for teen agers, over twelve years of age, is carried on by the same staff the first two weeks in August, with a greater emphasis on excursions away from the Center, planned by the young people themselves.

Parents interested in having their children participate in this program, as well as young men and women of high school or college age available to serve on the volunteer staff may call the Society at PA 2-3055 for additional information and registration forms.

Faust sets resolution for nursing home study

State Senator William Faust (D-13th District) has announced the introduction of a resolution in the Michigan Senate calling for the establishment of a special advisory committee to the Senate Committee on Health, Social Services and Retirement for the purpose of conducting a study of nursing home facilities in Michigan.

The special advisory committee would consist of a representative from the State Department of Public Health, a member from the nursing home administration, a member to represent the nursing home owners and a senior citizen who is or has been associated with nursing home care.

The committee representatives would be chosen by the Senate Committee on Health, Social Services and Retirement.

In commenting on his resolution, Senator Faust remarked, "The time has certainly come for the Michigan Legislature to take dramatic steps to insure the quality of life for the many senior citizens in Michigan who, for one reason or another, live in nursing homes. These people are often relegated to 'second class citizenship' simply because society has chosen to forget, or ignore them."

"I believe that a special advisory committee, composed of individuals who are acquainted with existing problems in nursing homes, would make valuable recommendations which would prove to be of great assistance in resolving the controversy which has engulfed the nursing home industry in Michigan."

The special advisory committee would have the power of subpoena for witnesses, and would be empowered to examine any books and records it deemed necessary to conduct its study. The members of the committee would serve without compensation.

Kowalski-Benefield

Grace Baptist Church is scene of nuptials

In an April 3 ceremony at Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, Mary Lee Benefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Benefield of Belleville, became the bride of David Lee Kowalski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kowalski of Petersburg.

Rev. Kinnaman Crawford presided at the double ring rite at seven thirty in the evening before an altar appointed with tall candelabra, and two vases of white gladiolas, poms and carnations.

Dona Coggins at the organ accompanied Rev. Bill Gram as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, Mary Lee was gowned in a bouffant-skirted creation of Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline outlined with scalloped lace and long sleeves in traditional wristpoint length. Formed of tiers of lace, the full skirt terminated in a chapel train.

HER ELBOW-LENGTH veil of silk illusion was caught to a crescent headdress of Venice lace appliques and two crushed peau roses. Completing her ensemble was a bouquet of white roses and miniature white carnations.

Christine Fogg of Belleville, a close friend of the bride, served as honor attendant in a floor-length frock of green floral print on white. The empire bodice gathered at the wrist with ruffles. She wore a matching bow in her hair and carried a matching parasol.

Similarly dressed in purple floral prints were the four bridesmaids: Mrs. William Settles (nee Judy Mills) of Tipton; and Barbara, Carol and Kimberly Kowalski of Petersburg, all sisters of the bridegroom.

Six-year old Lisa Benefield was flowergirl at her sister's wedding. Dressed in a junior version of the honor maid's outfit, she carried a basket of white carnations.

The bridegroom's cousin, seven-year old Jamie Briskey, carried out the role of ringbearer.

VICTOR STEVENS of Petersburg was asked to be best man. The corps of ushers included Ronald, Robert and Douglas Kowalski of Petersburg, all brothers of the bridegroom; Steve Benefield of Belleville, brother of the bride; and James Drake.

At the reception which followed in the church, Mrs. Benefield received in an apricot coat-dress ensemble with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a blue outfit and both added white orchids to their frocks.

After a five-day honeymoon in Washington, D.C., the newlyweds will make their home at 1618 Hurd Street, Toledo, Ohio.

A 1968 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Kowalski attended Bob Jones University in Greenville, S.C. for two years and Eastern Michigan University for one semester.

Her bridegroom graduated in 1966 from Summerfield High School and in 1970 from E.M.U. where he earned his B.S. degree in social studies. He is currently employed at B & F Oxygen Co., Toledo.

Ham appeal

Ham has "come again" appeal. Once family appetites are satisfied with juicy, tender ham, they want it back on the table again. Fortunately, most hams obligingly provide enough meat for follow-up casseroles, salads or sandwiches.

Boone-Basnaw wed

Newlyweds honeymoon in Pocono Mountains

A week-long honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania followed the February 27 wedding of Janet Janece Basnaw and Brien Keefe Boone. The Grace Baptist Church was reserved for their evening nuptials.

The double ring ceremony, read by the Rev. Kinniman Crawford, united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Basnaw of 40219 Alden Drive, Belleville, and the son of Austin Boone of 43011 Riggs Road, Belleville, and the late Mrs. Boone.

ESCORTED UP the aisle by her father, Janet appeared in a beau de soie creation fashioned with a high standup collar and a 'V' panel of Chantilly lace and tiny satin buttons on the fitted bodice. Her full bishop sleeves were cuffed with lace and the chapel train extending from the full skirt was caught up into a bustle for the reception.

A Juliet cap framed with three lace petals secured her bouffant veil of silk illusion which drifted to mid-back length and she carried baby's breath and a dozen long-stemmed roses in pink, red and white.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Dianna J. McDaniel was gownned in a full-length pink and scarlet creation. The pink crepe skirt was attached at the high-rise waist to a bolero-type scarlet velvet bodice with full, puffy sleeves. Her headpiece, two large daisies amid petal leaves, was in pale pink with a matching veil and the single long-stemmed rose she held was tied with pink bows and streamers and accented with baby's breath.

BRIDESMAIDS IN identical dresses and deep scarlet headdresses were Mrs. Brenda Brown of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Delaine Bolay of Ypsilanti; Judy Crawford of Belleville; and Martha A. Boone, the bridegroom's sister.

Six-year old Sherril McDaniel, and her three-year old brother Frankie, children of the Frank McDaniels of Belleville, served as flowergirl and ringbearer at their aunt's wedding.

Wearing a little frock her mother had made, Sherril was a miniature version of the senior attendants. The basket she carried was filled with daisies, miniature mums and rose petals.

THE CORPS of ushers, with Wayne Batson of Lincoln Park as best man for his cousin, included James Boone of Taylor and Tad Boone of Romulus, brothers of the bridegroom; Joseph Jones of Belleville; and Frank McDaniel, brother-in-law of the bride.

At the reception which followed at the V.F.W. Hall, Romulus, some 300 guests were greeted by Mrs. Basnaw in a formal gown of aqua chiffon with a matching pillbox hat and accessories. Her corsage was comprised of red and pink roses and white carnations.

The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Helen Batson, was presented with a corsage of blue-tipped carnations.

Both Janet and Brien are 1969 graduates of Belleville High School. She is currently employed as a secretary for U.S. Steel in Southfield and he is employed by the Ford Motor Company at Rawsonville.

At St. Anthony's

Rejman-Daley vows repeated

St. Anthony's Catholic Church was the setting March 27 for the marriage of Gayle Lynn Daley and Michael S. Rejman. For the one o'clock nuptials, the altar was graced with two baskets of white gladiolas. Father Raymond Skoney presided at the double ring service with Michael Ives providing organ music.

Gayle is the daughter of Robert Daley of E. Cleveland, Ohio and Mrs. Tom Rice of 8701 Belleville Road, Belleville. Michael's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Rejman of 76 Montague, Belleville.

Walking to the sanctuary with her father, Gayle appeared in a toe-touching gown of nylon organza over taffeta. The A-line creation was designed with a Mandarin collar, long full sleeves and a high rise bodice.

HER FLOOR LENGTH illusion veil edged with lace, was held by a double bow of organza. Her bouquet was comprised of cascading miniature white carnations and ivy centered with a purple orchid corsage.

Wearing orchid nylon organza over taffeta, Denise Mason of Belleville carried out the role of maid of honor. Her A-line frock was fashioned in the empire mode with a large double bow accented with seed pearling and a short veil as her headdress. An orchid, three miniature carnations and tendrils of ivy formed her be-ribboned bouquet.

Cathy Daley and Sandy Rice, sisters of the bride, and Denise Rejman, sister of the bridegroom, each carrying a single streamered orchid, were identically dressed as they performed as bridesmaids. Small pearl combs and wispy veil formed their headgear.

BEST MAN WAS the bridegroom's brother, Tim Rejman, and ushers were Jimmy Rice, brother of the bride; and Ralph and Dennis Kaminsky of Belleville.

The P.N.A. Hall was reserved for the reception which followed with some 250 guests attending. The bride's mother chose for the occasion a navy and blue crepe print formal skirt and navy blouse to which she added her corsage of white roses. At the wedding ceremony she had worn a one-piece bolero dress with a navy bodice and print skirt.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Rejman donned a black jacket dress with white accents and for the reception changed to a brown frock with white polka dots. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

THE NEWLYWEDS, who are planning a honeymoon trip to Acapulco in June, are now making their home in the Elmhurst Apartments, at 44050 Michigan Ave., Belleville.

A 1970 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Rejman is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Her husband graduated from Belleville High in 1967, served with the U.S. Army for two years with service in Vietnam, and is currently employed by the Ford Motor Company at Rawsonville.

LORD HELP ME FIND YOU

In and through the days of life
Lord give me strength inside.
In my problems and trials
Lord give me light to see.
In time of evil and anger
Lord give me patience to endure.
In days when the sky is grey
Lord give me sunlight to shine.
In times when there is no understanding
Lord give me knowledge.
Most of all, Lord help me to receive You
Into my heart, Your Bible into my mind,
Your Love on my lips, Your Understanding
In my hands, and Your Insight in my eyes.
So Lord all happiness shall be reached
When I reach You. How could I ask for everything?
When it is all in One—

Commissioners move on jail, transportation

Steps have been taken on vital programs being designed for Wayne County jail system and creation of a mass rapid transit system for the Detroit Metropolitan area.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has approved a program for staffing, equipping and rehabilitating two barracks at the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) for housing 150 Wayne County Jail prisoners.

Through the fiscal year 1971-72, the barracks program will cost $427,000. In addition, the board approved the reallocation of $1.5 million to allow money for specific improvements long needed at the present county jail.

The board's Law Enforcement and Public Safety Committee reported that the initial extra costs to begin the DeHoCo project were mainly due to the replacement employes for those who will be transferred to DeHoCo; the purchase of uniforms and supplies for these new employees; the need for training them; and the anticipated change in food requirements.

An occupancy date of August 1 is projected.

The renovation money allocation change came about because, at the time the current year's budget was adopted in October, the board decided that until the existing jail population was reduced to a certain extent, it would not be feasible to begin necessary alterations and renovations.

Because of the delay involved, the board earmarked funds for changes at the jail but had not specifically allocated them.

Concerning rapid transit, the board concurred with recommendations from the Transportation, Industrial and Commercial Development Committee authorizing release of $87,500 to Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA).

The funds were budgeted in 1970-71 but held pending review of contributions requested and received from other units of government.

for the purpose of conducting preliminary engineering of the Woodward Ave Corridor, which has been given priority by SEMTA.

The commissioners voiced disagreement with SEMTA concerning only the priority of the Woodward Corridor. Some felt that efforts at servicing Western Wayne County should come first.

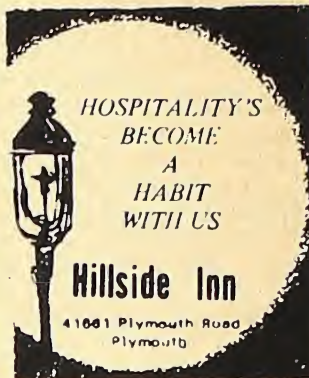

Commissioner Paul Silver (D-11th District) was vehement in his conviction that the Woodward corridor will "destroy the inner city and the growth of Wayne County."

Silver contended that at the time the board first approved allocations to SEMTA, no mention was made of the Woodward corridor getting prime consideration.

He said that he and other commissioners were under the impression that westward corridors would be constructed first.

The majority of commissioners seemed to feel, however, that rapid transit programs should move ahead as rapidly as possible, without the question of priorities blocking way. Only Silver and Commissioner Rose Mary C.

Robinson (D-17th District) voted against the authorization.

Mexican trip is campaign goal

Members of the Spanish class at the South Junior High School have initiated a campaign for funds to finance a two-week study program in Mexico.

The students and their teacher and sponsor Mrs. Janet Verde have scheduled a series of fund raising events this month.

They have set up headquarters across from the Hamilton Hardware Store, located at 450 Main St. The students planned to invade every home in the community with cakes, handmade pinatas, ties, flowers, raffle tickets and film tickets.

The events so far scheduled are:

An Art Sale on April 9, an Easter Bake Sale and Art Sale on April 10 and a rummage sale on April 30.

Persons who may want to donate something for the rummage sale are asked to call 697-7997 or 697-4159.

At the rummage sale a raffle prize of a black and white portable television set will be given away. Tickets are being sold now.

FUND CAMPAIGN TO OPEN — The Spanish class at the South Junior High School, Belleville, will begin a series of activities this month to earn enough money to finance a two-week study in Mexico. Art and Rummage sales are scheduled. The students are (front

Rifle course starting

Huron Valley Conservation Association, in cooperation with State of Michigan, Department of Natural Resources, will sponsor a series of classes in Basic Rifle Handling and Firearm Safety Training.

time, given in eight two-hour sessions, beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 20.

Certified NRA and DNR instructors will donate their time to conduct these classes.

There will be a charge of $1 per two-hour session to cover cost of ammunition, Safety Certificate and other training materials.

Starting this year a Firearms Safety Certificate is necessary for ages 12 through 16 to obtain a first hunting license.

For further information write HCVA, Box 273, Belleville, Mich. 48111, or phone Robert Heaslip at 697-8439.

Kids get square treat

Second and third grade students at the Elwell Elementary school were treated last week to a square dance lesson by a local square dance caller Joe Reed.

Reed, parent of Jerry Reed third grader, consented to come to school and teach the children, students of Mrs. Julie Hacala and Miss Pat Kosanic, a simple square dance routine.

The boys were a little bashful at first but after awhile were really in the swing of things and kicking up their heels.

Reed returned later and taught the area Girl Scout Troops, under the direction of Girl Scout Coordinator Mrs. Velma Harcas how to square dance.

Maybe you already know that breakfast cereal costs more per pound than beef steak. Where in the Bible does it state there were three wise men? ... That legal authority Ramsey Clark claims one out of four prison inmates in Texas is mentally retarded. ... Did you think a yucca was a cactus? Likewise. But it's some sort of lily. ... You can figure a 12-year-old boy is two-thirds as tall as he'll be when fully grown, generally, generally.

A male hummingbird is more romantic than a male human being, that's clear. At the sight of an interesting meal, a male hummingbird's wings beat approximately 55 times per second. But at the sight of a pretty little member of the opposite sex, said hummingbird's wings beat up to 220 times a second. The excitement is quadrupled. "Find me a man who gets four times as revved up over a member of the opposite sex as over an interesting meal," says our Love and War man, "and I'll retract this."

Chicago is a poker town. Pittsburgh is a pinochle town. Los Angeles is a canasta town. Philadelphia is bridge town. Seattle is a cribbage town. New Orleans is a hearts town. Las Vegas is a blackjack town. Boston is a solitaire town. And San Francisco, bless that quick old sport, is a high-card-cut-for-a-no-limit-pot-town. - Customer service: Q. "Is Greenwich Village still the favorite hangout of the artists and writers of the East Coast?" A. Beats me. Don't get much news out of Greenwich Village anymore. All I can tell you is Hungry Charley's restaurant there will charge 50 cents for one egg, 40 cents for two eggs and 30 cents for three eggs. ... Q. "How many wives has Pablo Picasso had?" A. Seven that he remembers. According to the written record. Two legally.

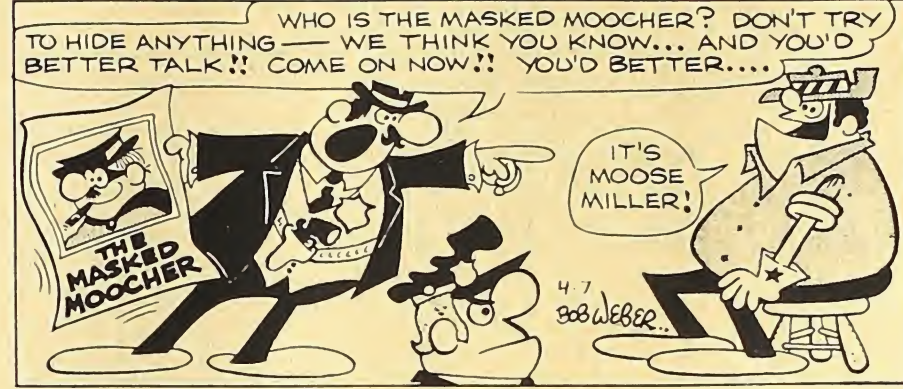

Coughing clears the throat. Sneezing opens your bronchial tubes. Even regurgitation - please pardon that - does its duty. Each as a purpose. But name the good in hiccoughs anyway? ... The paperback book business has come a long way. In just a few years, too. The old dime novel magazines date way back, certainly. But if you're over 32 years old, you were born before the paperback books got their start.

Hollywood, Calif., has turned up its share of Proper Job Club nominees, sure enough. A Mr. Magazine, who represents magazines. A Mr. Beam, who handles the lights on the Glen Campbell show. And a Mr. Loan, who is a banking expert.

Argument continues over how much Delilah got paid for arranging Samson's haircut. "Not just $1,100 pieces of silver," contends Mrs. Jonni Rose of Fresno, Calif., "but 1,100 pieces of silver each from the lords of the Phillistines. Each! Nobody knows how many lords."

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who thinks in a practical way even though the visionary is quite alive. For this reason much success can come by combining both admirable qualities. Give as fine an education that gives theoretical knowledge. The field of engineering is a natural one here, whether he makes a bridge or a fabulous painting. The derision of others should be knocked out early, though there is a determined will here. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.
